THE DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO- ROUND

By DREW PEARSON
and ROBERT A. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Friday, May 17. The government's attempt to pry $3,000,000 in back taxes and penalties out of "Uncle Andy" Mellon may have far-reaching consequences not anticipated when the action was instituted.

The case may prove to be the firing cap that will set off a sweeping reorganization of the tax enforcement machinery that will see—among other drastic changes—the abolition of the United States board of tax appeals. Strong sentiment for this has been current in congressional and administration circles for some time.

It is not generally known that the Mellon "trial" before a "court" of three of the sixteen members of the tax board is being followed with the closest attention in capitol hill. The action of Ernest Van Fossan, republican chairman of the "court," in excluding evidence hostile to the multi-millionaire defendant did not go unnoticed by the congressional scrutineers.

ONE immediate result of this action was some private checking of the tax board's record.

It was found that the government loses a very considerable portion of the cases handled by the board. In 1932 the government won only 43 per cent.

Two other pertinent facts uncovered were: (1) that the United States is the only country in the world where an individual charged with tax evasion can litigate before he settles (2) that under the existing enforcement machinery the wealthy taxpayer, who can afford counsel, has a great advantage over the "little fellow."

A striking instance of this is the case of Charles E. Mitchell, former head of the National City Bank of New York. The government instituted action against him before the tax board to collect a large sum in claimed taxes, but although the hearings were concluded more than a year ago the board has yet to hand down its decision.

FUTILE NEW DEAL

THE New Deal may have driven unemployment from the capital, crowded its hotels, and brought it back to prosperity with a vengeance, but there is one thing Roosevelt and all his brain trusters have not solved.

This is the startling problem. These large, black birds, somewhat smaller than crows, have selected Washington as their favorite roosting place along the Atlantic coast, and every evening deluge government buildings with their debris.

Every conceivable method known to man has been resorted to to scare them away—to no avail.

First the fire department, with its powerful high-pressure hoses was called in. But the starlings simply returned to their roosts after the deluge was over. Then the district commissioners tried small-caliber rifles. But the humane societies objected.

Finally the commissioners resorted to balloons. These are tied on long strings and suddenly intrude upon the nocturnal rest of the starlings, which usually leave the ledges of the government buildings for the trees. Here the FERA workers await them with tins full of stones which they clatter noisily at the roosting birds.

It is a great game. And so far the starlings not only have won, but apparently have enjoyed it.

MORTGAGE LOANS

VERY little is being said about the survey of mortgage loans now being made by The Brookings Institution, but several new dealers in high places attach much significance to it.

Reason is that it is backed by four of the most powerful groups of lending organizations in the country: the insurance companies, the savings banks, building and loan associations, and the savings banks and trust companies.

Their idea is to reach an understanding with the administration as to where government mortgage lending stops and private lending begins.

Behind this, of course, is the fact that the billions of dollars which the government has poured into housing, public works, and HOLC has seriously curtailed the mortgage field. Insurance companies, savings banks and the (Please turn to Page 16)

President Roosevelt Invited to Visit Santa Ana EXECUTIVE TO LAMSON TO FACE 3RD MURDER TRIAL

MAKE TRIP TO COAST

Definitely Announces He Will Attend San Diego Fair

Santa Ana today put out the welcome sign for President Franklin D. Roosevelt. As soon as it was announced by the Associated Press that the national executive will visit the San Diego exposition this summer, the chamber of commerce prepared to dispatch a telegram to the white house, extending a cordial invitation to Mr. Roosevelt to accept this city's hospitality when he passes through the community on his way to San Diego.

The text of the telegram sent to President Roosevelt today, and signed by W. H. Spurgeon, president of the chamber of commerce, was as follows:

"We desire to congratulate you upon announcement that you will attend California Pacific International Exposition at San Diego during the summer. Stop. While en route, we invite you to dinner with chamber of commerce, Santa Ana, California, in the Orange Empire of America. Stop. Date subject to your plans. Stop."

Howard I. Wood, secretary of the chamber of commerce, pointed out that the city has a great opportunity to entertain the president, and that every effort should be made to make his stay here a pleasant one in case Mr. Roosevelt finds it possible to stop in this city.

Present Opportunity
A visit from the executive would present an opportunity to give a graphic demonstration of the resources of the city and county, which is one of the most concentrated agricultural and citrus sections in the country.

No definite date has been set for the president's trip to the exposition. As soon as a date is set, Santa Ana will be able to make definite plans for entertaining the executive if he finds it possible to stop here.

News of the president's plans came today after the California congressional delegation had called upon President Roosevelt. The date for the presidential visit was left open to await the adjournment of congress, for which no specific date has been set.

President Starts Writing Message on Veto This Afternoon

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Friday, May 17. (P)—President Roosevelt plans to present his bonus veto to congress in a personal appearance next week.

WASHINGTON, Friday, May 17. (P)—The Patman inflationary bonus bill was sent to the white house today for a certain veto.

The last congressional formality was completed when Vice President Garner signed the $2,200,000,000 measure.

Meanwhile, President Roosevelt set aside this afternoon to start writing the veto message which probably will be sent to congress Monday.

Journal's Free Swap Column to Be Real Service

The Journal begins the publication of its free Swap Column today. It will be found on Page 3.

Briefly, the idea is this: Around most households there are always a number of articles not needed which might be traded for something more useful to that particular household. You may have a violin when what you really want is a flock of laying hens. You may have a set of old books which you would exchange for a canary. You may have a baby buggy which you no longer need and which could be exchanged for fruit jars or what have you.

UPTON OPENS L. A. MEET

Says Nation Heading
For Bankruptcy or Dictatorship

LOS ANGELES, Friday, May 17. (P)—Upton Sinclair said today the country is heading for inflation and national bankruptcy—possibly dictatorship.

In the keynote speech before a state convention of his "End Poverty in California" followers, the 56-year-old writer and former socialist, declared "the skies are all greased for a slide into inflation."

To save the situation and avert dictatorship, the people "will have to get busy at once and find a way to end this depression" through production for use, said Sinclair.

"We can do this any time we get ready," he told the 300 delegates who opened their three-day reorganization convention this morning. "All that is needed is sufficient intelligence to understand it, and sufficient conscience and public spirit on the part of our educated classes."

Lawrence of Arabia Still Unconscious

WOOL, Dorsetshire, Eng., Friday, May 17. (P)—Physicians this afternoon kept constant watch over the little spark of life burning in the body of Lawrence of Arabia, as the fourth day since his motorcycle accident found him still unconscious.

A bulletin issued at 1 p. m. (5 a. m. E.S.T.), said his condition remained critical.

'Gin Marriage' Law Ousted by Assembly

SACRAMENTO, Friday, May 17. (P)—Californians desiring to marry in haste may do so in their home state if the senate concurs in an action of the assembly. The lower house, by a vote of 43 to 31, last night approved the Desmond bill which would wipe from the statute books the present "gin marriage" law requiring a three-day notice of intention to wed.

Repealists Still Losing in Georgia

ATLANTA, Friday, May 17. (P)—The lead of the prohibitionists mounted to 157 votes today on the basis of re-checked unofficial returns from Wednesday's repeal referendum.

It will take an official count before the outcome of the referendum on repeal of the state prohibition law is known.

The latest tabulation gave: For repeal, 81,881; against repeal, 82,038.

'LOVE' FLYER HOPS

5 CONVICTED OF BREMER KIDNAPING

Two Others Acquitted
In Disappearance of
St. Paul Brewer

ST. PAUL, Friday, May 17. (P)—Arthur (Doc) Barker, convicted of conspiracy in the kidnaping of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker, today was sentenced to life imprisonment by Federal Judge M. M. Joyce who imposed a similar sentence upon Oliver A. Berg, Illinois convict.

Barker and Berg were sentenced to "Leavenworth penitentiary or any other institution the United States attorney may designate."

Judge Joyce in commending the jury on their verdict, said that "by verdicts such as yours the incentive to kidnap will soon pass."

When Barker and Berg stood up to be sentenced, Judge Joyce said:

"Arthur Barker, you have no defense in this case. No one could doubt your guilt. You have had a fair trial. Kidnaping is one crime that the people of this country will not tolerate."

Pronounces Sentence
Judge Joyce then sentenced Barker and Berg to "Leavenworth or any other institution the United States attorney may designate for the rest of their natural lives."

Richberg to Quit NRA Board June 16

WASHINGTON, Friday, May 17. (P)—One of the most meteoric of new deal careers was declared today to be nearing a close. Informed sources said that under an understanding reached some time ago, Donald R. Richberg is to step out of the government and return to private law practice when the NRA act expires June 16.

The informants said Richberg would remain in his post as chairman of the Blue Eagle recovery board only during the legislative reorganization of NRA now being studied in congress.

Gene Raymond Denies Marriage

NEW YORK, Friday, May 17. (P)—Gene Raymond, blond screen actor, has no intention of being married for some time to come, if at all.

Furthermore, he says he doesn't even know Miss Helen Zeh who announced in San Francisco last night that she and Raymond would be married June 2 in Southern California. Miss Zeh, 18-year-old stenographer, said she met Raymond through friends six months ago.

SCHOOL ROW MEET ON

Adkinson Calls Group in Oceanview Fight to Office Today

Following statements today by members of the Oceanview school board emphatically denying any intention of resigning, in the row that has arisen over the dismissal of J. J. Gebauer, seventh grade teacher, Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools, has requested representatives of both sides of the dispute to meet him today in his office.

In announcing the conference, Adkinson said that the meeting is not an investigation of the dispute, members of the school board or the teaching staff. He declared that the meeting is merely a conference called in an effort to obtain harmony and end the disturbance that has threatened to tear the community apart.

Report Denied
Vernon Heil and C. E. Worthy, who said they also were speaking for T. J. Holt, president of the board, denied the report that they would resign from the board today. Heil, delegated as spokesman, said: "I deny any intention of resigning until after an investigation by the county superintendent of schools. More Fun for Kids! Another Shirley Picture Today

Boys and girls in Orange county are getting a lot of fun coloring the picture of Shirley Temple; another picture appears in The Journal today. Just get out your crayons and get busy.

Perhaps when you have seen a Shirley Temple picture you have wondered whether her eyes are blue or brown—whether she has dark hair or blonde. Now you have an opportunity to produce in color exactly the girl you have in mind when you think of Shirley.

The prizes offered are well worth while, and if you are under 12 years of age your entry may assure you of seeing "Our Little Girl" which will be shown at the Broadway theater beginning Sunday. Contest ends tomorrow night at 8.

21 OF JURORS HAVE VOTED CONVICTION

'Matter of Expense' Is Unimportant, Says
District Attorney

SAN JOSE, Friday, May 17. (P)—District Attorney Fred L. Thomas announced today that David A. Lamson would be tried for a third time on a charge of murdering his wife, Allene Thorpe Lamson, in their Stanford university campus home on Memorial day, 1933.

In a prepared statement, Thomas declared that of the two juries which had tried Lamson, 21 of their 24 members had found him guilty; that the cost of the trial should not be considered and "not to retry Lamson would be just another broken link in our already badly demoralized system of handling crime."

"We have considered all factors of the case and have decided on a retrial," Thomas said, "evidence in the case has been submitted to two different juries and of the 24 members composing those juries, 21 have found the defendant was guilty. That fact alone warrants a retrial."

Matter of Expense
"The matter of the expense of a retrial should not be seriously considered, for, if a crime has been committed, it should be prosecuted and an earnest effort made finally to determine the guilt or innocence of the defendant. There has, however, been much comment in this regard and the costs of the present trial have been greatly exaggerated. The county auditor's office informs me that an expenditure of less than $15,000 has been incurred, with most of the major bills paid."

"I firmly believe there would be no cry about costs of a retrial if it were a defendant with less of a social background and with less influence. I do not believe that the position of any one defendant should be different from that of another whatever his position in life; all should be treated alike."

Believe Him Guilty
"I believe with the 21 members of the two juries that the defendant is guilty."

'Mixup' in Stomachs Is No Practical Joke

REMSEN, N. Y., Friday, May 17. (P)—"Stop him; he's got the wrong stomach," said the voice coming through the telephone receiver at the state police station here, and the state trooper on duty went out on the highway to get his man.

It sounded like a practical joke, but it wasn't.

The office of the district attorney of Lewis county was sending a stomach of a person who had died from an undetermined cause to Albany for chemical analysis. The messenger had taken another stomach by mistake.

MARRIAGE IS DECLARED ILLEGAL

Fullerton Publisher Cuts Off Woman in Testament Here

Sensational revelations in the life of H. Edgar Johnson, former Fullerton publisher, whose death was reported yesterday in The Journal, were made in the publisher's will filed for probate in superior court, within a few hours after his death. H. C. Head, Santa Ana attorney, was named executor.

Included in the remarkable document were:

1—Admission of a marriage ceremony to a woman who, the will said, was later revealed as having been married at the time of the ceremony.

2—Denial of the paternity of a child born to the woman.

3—Charges that an affidavit admitting the child's paternity had been obtained from him by "threats and duress."

4—Provision for the child's support through a $5400 bequest to be paid, directly to the child, in monthly installments.

After listing the estate as consisting of personal property valued at $10,000 and of real estate valued at more than $10,000 the document, over Johnson's signature, declared:

"I went through a marriage ceremony with Jessie Smith Engstrom in Ventura county; that since that time I have been advised she had a husband living, from whom she was not legally divorced."

Jessie Smith, according to the will, is living at 722 North Roxbury street, Beverly Hills and title to the property is vested in her as Jessie Smith Engstrom. The place represents an investment of $25,000, and was bequeathed, complete with furnishings, to her under Johnson's will. Other than the property she was left nothing, Johnson declaring: "Heretofore I have given her and paid out for her benefit large sums of money. It is my will that she receive nothing whatever from my estate other than the above bequest."

Service Clubs of County Asked To Help Vernon

Service clubs of Orange county, today were requested by The Journal to come to the aid of 340-pound Vernon Carpenter by increasing a fund to provide Santa Ana's unfortunate crippled boy with a new wheel-chair.

Only a small portion of the $250 needed has been received up until noon today, but many citizens realize the worthiness of the case, and have expressed a willingness to contribute within the next few days, the Journal learned.

Many organizations in the county plan to take up a collection for the paralytic victim at their next meeting.

Small contributions from individuals will be as deeply appreciated as the larger donations, it was pointed out. The $1 recently given by crippled Freddie Carson, whose sole income is derived from selling newspapers on Santa Ana street corners, warmed the heart of the cheerful Vernon.

By providing a new chair for the Carpenter youth, citizens will be aiding not only Vernon but his 58-year-old mother, who constantly worries while endeavoring to keep her son entertained while he is confined to his home at 1325 West Second street, Santa Ana.

CHARGE POULTRY RACKETEERS EXACT HUGE TRIBUTE FROM DEALERS

CLAIM VIRTUAL LEGALIZATION UNDER NRA

Monopolies Active in N. Y., Commissioner Says in Report

NEW YORK, Friday, May 17. (AP)—Virtually legalized under an NRA code, monopolies and racketeers in the poultry industry are levying $2,000,000 tribute annually on dealers, William Fellows Morgan jr., commissioner of markets, declared today.

In a report, Commissioner Morgan named "czars" and declared the live poultry code is intimidated by gangsters.

The bill, he said, is ultimately paid by the consumer and is enacted by intimidation, arson, murder, and espionage.

The sources of forced and illegal payments cited by Morgan are:

Trucking and coop monopolies; yield—$1,095,000 a year.

Labor union, Shootin' union, and Koshier organization racketeers; yield—$500,000 a year "above justifiable expense."

Large Yield
Dealers and slaughterers' organizations and "protection," yield—$500,000 a year.

Morgan reported that 95 per cent of the city's slaughterers buy from the Metropolitan Feed company "because they dare not do otherwise" and that the firm's earnings are $100,000 in "excess of reasonable profits."

The New Jersey Coop company and the New York Live Poultry Trucking company, both operated by the same group, Morgan said, maintain such excessive rates that their profits in 1932 are estimated at $856,492.30.

MASTER SPEAKS IN $100,000 FLICK SUIT

NEW YORK, Friday, May 17. (AP)—The $100,000 slander suit brought by William Lawrence Graham, butler, against Mrs. Henrietta Flick and her daughter, Margot, was tossed out of supreme court today by a directed verdict of Justice Philip McCook.

By MORRIS WATSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK, Friday, May 17. (AP)—R. Jay Flick, master of the household involved in a butler's $100,000 slander suit, testified today that the bedroom incident upon which the suit is based was but the mere climax to circumstances that justified the self-described impeccable butler's discharge.

"He was drinking my liquor right 'long," Flick said indignantly, speaking of William Lawrence Graham, his former gentleman's gentleman, the plaintiff in the case.

Flick, a white-haired, stocky man of middle age and aristocratic bearing, with white mustache waxed to upward points, is the husband of Mrs. Henrietta Flick and the stepfather of the daughter, Margot, the two defendants.

Didn't Knock
Graham was discharged from the Flick service November 7, 1931, after Miss Margot Flick had accused him of entering her bedroom in the Flick New York apartment without knocking while she was in sleeping pajamas November 6.

The butler alleged the accusation amounted to slander and that it caused him to lose his bride, 22, Upland, were brought from San Bernardino last night and booked at the county jail on burglary charges.

According to a report made by deputies F. C. Swayze and Claude Potter of the sheriff's farm detail, the three men stole chickens from the Bailey ranch, the Ehnman ranch, and the Morning Star ranch on April 21.

All three of the ranches are in Orange county. Officers say that one of the three men has confessed to the thefts. All three of them were in jail in San Bernardino having been convicted there of other charges, officers said. They were taken to Orange this morning for arraignment in Justice of the Peace A. W. Swayze's court.

U. S. Legation in China Is Elevated

WASHINGTON, Friday, May 17. (AP)—President Roosevelt today approved raising the American legation in China to the status of an embassy.

Secretary Hull made the announcement early today, timing it for simultaneous announcements by Great Britain and Japan that they were taking similar steps.

Nelson T. Johnson, now American minister to China, is reported to be slated for ambassador.

HOUSE REPLICA TO BE DISPLAYED

A model house which is an exact replica of the home of Mr. Wilbur Barr on North Newport road, and which was built by Francis Glockner, high school senior, will be taken to Los Angeles tonight to be displayed at the National Housing exposition opening there tomorrow. The house was to be completed this afternoon.

Mr. Glockner, who lives at 1337 South Garnsey street, was assisted in his work by Louis Dixon, designer, and Curtis Bowman, draughtsman. Mr. Barr's house was designed by Mr. Dixon and Mr. Bowman some time ago after it had been partially burned.

The supreme court has just ruled that the government can pay off its bonds in depreciated money. So the skids are all greased for a slide into inflation."

On the eve of the convention, Sinclair reiterated his distaste for any third party movement.

APPROVAL SEEN ON BIG WORKS PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Friday, May 17. (AP)—A quick O. K. from the white house on the $1,091,802,200 worth of work relief projects recommended to President Roosevelt by chiefs of the relief drive was considered virtually certain in high quarters today.

Since the president himself attended the session of the advisory allotment board which culminated late yesterday when the board recommended the projects, the action of the president in withholding an immediate approval caused some surprise in the capital.

The reason was not announced. It was recalled, however, that in the congressional fight over the $4,880,000,000 work-relief bill—when critics were hammering away at Secretary Ickes—the word went down the line from the white house that the president would have the final say in allotting the money.

Kingpin Positions

Ickes and Harry L. Hopkins have two of the kingpin positions in the work-relief setup. Though the 22-man allotment board gave its formal approval, observers saw indications that it followed a chart largely pre-arranged. One official said its action was largely routine, because other agencies concerned had studied the proposals and submitted data.

Whether this meant that the allotments board had been permanently reduced to a routine part in the works machinery was not announced. In two hours yesterday it approved the projects, covering a wide range of types in hundreds of localities over the country.

MORE ABOUT JOHNSON

existence of an affidavit signed by him and in which he admitted the child's paternity. This affidavit is repudiated in the will on the grounds that it was procured "by means of threats and duress."

It was further stated in the document, which was signed May 3, last:

"I do not recognize her as my child and declare the said affidavit was made solely because of said threats and duress and does not state the facts."

In spite of his denial of the child's paternity, however, Johnson made provision for her through a bequest of $5400 to be placed in a bank to be designated by the court. This money is to be paid the child in monthly installments of $75, each payment to be made personally to the beneficiary. Should any part of the bequest remain unpaid or it be impossible to make further payments, the will instructs that the residue revert to the estate and be divided between residuary legatees, not including Jessie Smith Engstrom.

Other Bequests

Other bequests included $10,000 to Virginia Remington of Los Angeles; $10,000 to L. A. Cooper, Los Angeles; $500 to Mrs. Cordelia Whitney, of San Francisco, sister of Johnson's late wife, Mrs. Millie Johnson; $150 to Grace Johnson of Santa Ana; $250 to Mrs. O. B. Evans, of Fullerton; $15,000 to Charles Johnson, Montrose, brother of the late publisher, and $15,000 to Marvin Johnson, another brother, living in South Pasadena. The residue of the estate shall be prorated among legatees other than Jessie Smith Engstrom.

To prevent any contest of the will, Johnson added a clause providing that should any of the beneficiaries attempt to contest the document, interfere with the peaceful enjoyment of their share of the estate by any of the heirs or attempt to sue the executor, all bequests to that beneficiary shall immediately become void and distributed among other residuary legatees.

longer a fit man to be trusted, I will resign."

Heil, Worthy and Holt made a statement in which they declared that they believed Gebauer's dismissal warranted and to the best interests of the children. They said they believe that charge of non-cooperation with other teachers is true and has existed over a period of years. Gebauer, they said, had been warned against criticizing other teachers in the presence of students, but persisted in this action. Relative to Gebauer's charges of filthy and immoral practices, the trustees declared that if he knew of this condition, and did not report it to school authorities, he fell far short of the standard of a school teacher.

JAPANESE CONSUL HONORED BY COUNTY ASSOCIATIONS

With amity and friendship between Americans and Japanese as the keynote, the Japanese associations of Orange county last night gave a banquet in honor of Tomokazu Hori, Japanese consul in Los Angeles. Twenty American guests were present to greet the consul, on the invitation of the associations.

The dinner, held at the Green Cat, climaxed a busy day for the consul. He was taken on a tour of the Japanese farms in the western part of the county, along the coast to Laguna Beach and back by the Irvine ranch.

W. H. Spurgeon, president of the Santa Ana chamber of commerce, at the request of the Japanese in charge of the affair, was toastmaster. Mr. Spurgeon entertainingly reviewed incidents of a visit he made to Japan four years ago. He pointed out the fact that quite a number of the Japanese present were graduates of Southern California colleges and universities. Consul Hori is married to an American-born Japanese, and his child is an American.

Address of Welcome

An address of welcome was given in Japanese by S. Murata of Stanton, with a translation in English by Takenada. In the response, T. E. Stephenson, postmaster, brought out that most of the 60 Japanese present had been farming in the county for more than 20 years and that there are approximately 300 Japanese farmers operating in the county.

Miyawaki, speaking for Americans of Japanese parentage, declared that the young Japanese voters are devoted to the American flag and fully appreciate the advantages of their citizenship.

Uniformly industrious
Superior Judge James L. Allen pointed out the fact that Japanese are uniformly industrious, law abiding and faithful to trust. Stuart Strathman, secretary of the Placentia chamber of commerce, and A. Tamura junior were speakers.

The consul was introduced by

Placentia Grant Cancellation Told

BEET WORKERS QUIT JOBS IN FIELDS

Labor difficulties are facing beet growers of this section again today.

Thinning crews on two ranches have quit their jobs without giving any reason, and one of the owners is facing the loss of a 26-acre field of beets unless immediate help is forthcoming.

Yesterday afternoon on the G. L. Harper ranch near Talbert eight men started to work but quit almost immediately without explaining their action. They were part of a group of 13 who had been working on the day before, but who had been induced to leave their jobs by three outside men who came into the field and argued with them.

Identity Unknown

The identity of the trio which started dissatisfaction on the part of the crew is not known.

On Wednesday, six men who had been working on the W. B. Heil ranch near Smeltzer quit without notifying Mr. Heil of any complaint, and without stopping to get their pay before they departed. Three of the men had worked 15 hours and three had worked for four hours.

Did Not Work Long

Mr. Harper said last night that he had several crews on his ranch during the last few days but that none of the men worked long enough to accomplish much. The crew of 13 which left the job Wednesday had been working on another ranch under a contractor. When they came to work for Mr. Harper they protested against the contract system and Mr. Harper agreed to pay the men directly at $4.50 per acre. Then the men were persuaded to leave.

About 300 acres of beets remain to be thinned. The first hoeing of beets is about one-half completed. Thinning in the Los Alamitos area is practically done.

BUDGET REPORT TO BE UP AT BEACH MEET

NEWPORT BEACH, Friday, May 17.—The monthly meeting of the directors of the chamber of commerce was held Wednesday night at the city hall. Plans for a special meeting of the group, at which budget reports will be heard, were made. The open meeting will be held on Thursday, May 23. Reports on the international star boat regatta, the revival of the Orange county fair and the various features of advertising were received at the meeting.

E. I. Moore recommended an appropriation of $250 by the chamber to purchase trophies and cover other expenses of the star boat regatta which is scheduled for this city next August. His recommendation was filed until the budget meeting.

Asks SARA Help
It was suggested by Frank Crocker, head of the lifeguard, that SARA help be obtained to handle the beach recreational features. Attention was called to the heavy expense of life guards maintained by the city for the protection of visitors from all over Southern California.

Announcement was made that a satisfactory number of Pacific Electric trains would be operated between this city and Los Angeles as soon as sufficient travel has developed.

Racing Program
Outline for a two weeks' racing program to be held in connection with the Orange county fair was presented at the meet. This outline was approved if the permit is granted and issued through the county fair board of the county farm bureau in connection with a county fair.

The posting of four signs along the state highway to call attention of travelers to the bay was approved. Advertising in San Diego and Arizona papers was also recommended.

Costa Mesa Is Drilling New Well
COSTA MESA, Friday, May 17.—The Wilshire Oil company, drilling a well on its property west of here, is making fine progress, the hole being 545 feet deep. Indications are fine for a well. It is the intention to go to the 2400 foot level, in the hope that they may strike the sand recently found by the NuOil company. There is still considerable activity in the leasing of land near here.

The Newport Heights irrigation district has completed the laying of its new mains on Newport boulevard, and has started work on Seventeenth street and Orange avenue. When completed this company will have one of the best irrigation plants in the county. The work is being done by SARA labor.

On May 24 the Woman's Friday Afternoon club will hold a baby clinic day, and parents are invited to bring their children to the clinic for observation. The baby clinic here is one of the oldest of Orange county.

M. G. Elghney, proprietor of a bird farm here, recently received a pair of very rare birds from Java. They are the green peacock, native of Java, and are very rare in the United States.

HUGE BEACH PARK SEEN AS FINE FUTURE PLAYGROUND

SAN CLEMENTE, Friday, May 17.—Only a short drive south of sunny San Clemente is the future playground of the west. Five hundred acres of public park is in its formative stages of development. Bordered by highway 101 on one side and the blue Pacific on the other, San Clemente Camp S. P. 27 E. C. W.—CCC for short—is furnishing the man-power to build this gigantic public playground.

Years hence, these same CCC boys will be driving their own families down to this state park to camp over the week-end. They will say, proudly, "I helped build this adobe stove, back in 1935." Or, "See that round column over there? Well, I moulded the adobe bricks for that." And the cool breezes coming off the ocean will help them believe that their early efforts were a lasting achievement, not just a period of "marking time."

Government Program
So far, the government program provides funds for the continuance of this splendid work until the end of September; but, according to Robert C. Conner, superintendent, the park may be opened to the public for camping in the near future. A small fee may be charged, which will go into a state fund

OPPOSE PLAN TO AID DEBTORS

FULLERTON, Friday, May 17.—Members of the board of directors of the Fullerton chamber of commerce voted to protest against proposed legislation which would provide for exemption of automobiles from seizure by attachment at the regular meeting here yesterday.

The proposed bill, now before the state legislature, would exempt any car valued at less than $200. Members expressed the belief that present provisions in the law are sufficient for protection of debtors.

Directors also voted to support the proposals of walnut growers for continuation of the walnut pro-rate.

A resolution was adopted expressing regret for the death of Edgar Johnson, pioneer newspaper publisher, here yesterday.

Committee members reported progress in plans for the Valencia Orange festival June 6, 7 and 8, and the state Christian Endeavor convention here June 22-25.

CLUB SECTION HOLDS MEET

SAN CLEMENTE, Friday, May 17.—Members of the Arts and Crafts section of the San Clemente Woman's club met at the home of Mrs. A. T. Smith and Mrs. John Lewis Tuesday afternoon. It was decided that the next meeting will be a picnic either at the beach or state park. The afternoon was spent sewing and informally discussing plans for the next meeting. Members present were: Mrs. G. E. Higgins, Miss Jennie Lane, chairman of the section; Mrs. John Lewis, secretary and treasurer of the group; Mrs. Linnie Bartlett, Miss Effie Johnston, Mrs. Helen Cowger, Miss Grace Leak, Mrs. Susan Brown, Mrs. F. W. Parsons, Mrs. D. W. Barrett, Mrs. A. T. Smith, Miss Eunice Templin, and guest, Mrs. Vera Baxter and mother, Mrs. J. Lewis. Refreshments were furnished by Miss Eunice Templin, Mrs. Mary Gleason and Mrs. Bernice Sites.

FRANCIS LEDERER IS SPEAKER AT FULLERTON SCHOOL

FULLERTON, Friday, May 17.—Featured by a special assembly at which Francis Lederer, actor and founder of the World Peace Federation was speaker, students of Fullerton union high school and district junior college participated in the annual exhibit day at the school yesterday.

Included in the program were short plays and vocal numbers by members of the language departments, displays from the mineralogy club and from all departments of the schools and demonstrations by various classes.

The faculty committee in charge included W. P. Corbett, Miss Lucile Hinkle, L. O. Clup, Miss Henrietta Helm, Mrs. Mary Hodgson and R. A. Marsden.

FULLERTON ORDER OF DE MOLAY SEATS OFFICERS

FULLERTON, Friday, May 17.—New officers for Fullerton chapter Order of DeMolay, were installed last night in the Masonic temple. Tommy McMaster is the new master counselor, Bob Read senior counselor and Jack Chewing junior counselor.

Outgoing officials of the three high offices are Grant Brown, Jr., master counselor, and McMaster and Read, who take the next highest office.

W. C. T. U. Meeting Held at Wade Home

GARDEN GROVE, Friday, May 17.—A white ribbon recruit consecration service was given by Mrs. J. R. Wade, child welfare director, when the W. C. T. U. met at her home Wednesday afternoon. Children having the white ribbon bow tied on their wrists were Ronald Lee Wade, Daniel Charles house and Leslie Bennett House.

Mrs. W. B. Merchant read an original manuscript on "Hereditry." Mrs. E. C. Amos read an article against the 10-year campaign for moderate drinking. Mrs. Florence Ames led the devotions.

Plans were made for a potluck luncheon, June 19, at the home of the president, Mrs. G. L. Beardsley. Flower missions will be the subject for the day's program.

The hostess served refreshments.

SAN CLEMENTE, Friday, May 17.—J. C. Thompson, music instructor in the San Juan Capistrano high school, was host to members of the orchestra, Boys' Glee club, and Girls' Glee club at a party in the high school auditorium Tuesday evening, May 14.

A short program consisting of selections by the orchestra and members was the feature of the evening.

Following the program, the 48 students present enjoyed dancing with the school orchestra playing popular numbers. Mothers of the class served refreshments.

Speech Elimination Contest Features Meet of Lions Club

ORANGE, Friday, May 17.—The meeting of the Lions club Wednesday noon was featured by an elimination contest of five-minute speeches to determine who should represent the club at the county meeting next Monday night in Laguna Beach.

Following the noon luncheon, several members made speeches, and from these Ivan Swanger was chosen to represent the club. At the county meet a speaker will be chosen to represent the county at the state meet in San Diego.

COUNCIL HOLDS BUSY MEET

LAGUNA BEACH, Friday, May 17.—At the regular meeting of the city council Wednesday night a communication from the humane society for a request for further funds to meet the yearly deficit was considered. It was believed that help should be granted, but as a plan was being offered by the Orange county health officer, the matter was laid aside until these suggestions were received.

A petition, signed by 20 or more property owners, to the effect that the Studio club was considered a nuisance in the neighborhood, was read before the meeting. Several parties orally arose to defend as well as protest the suggestions of the petition. After the defense and objections were heard by the members present, the matter was referred to Frank Case to determine the sanitary ramifications, and to the police department for investigation.

Bids Are Read
Bids were read on the Sanitary lateral sewer, district No. 1, estimated cost about $38,000. The low bid of J. L. Kruly, Los Angeles, for $44,230.10 was set aside for a later report on Monday evening.

Police Chief Abe W. Johnson requested of the council, by letter, the sum of $25 to help defray expenses of the last meeting of the Orange county peace officers association held recently in Laguna.

MEXICAN GROUP HOLDS MEET

FULLERTON, Friday, May 17.—Representatives of Sunday schools, women's and young people's societies and other groups from Mexican churches throughout Southern California were in attendance at the Mexican-American Inter-denominational convention which opened last night at the Fullerton First Methodist Episcopal church.

The convention will conclude with sessions Sunday night. Host pastor for the convention is Rev. A. Dominguez, pastor of the Fullerton Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. J. V. Passillas of Los Angeles, president of the convention, will preside at all sessions of the convention.

Officers of the convention board are Rev. Hubert Falcon, vice president; Rev. E. C. Regalado, Rev. Ignacio Romero and Rev. A. Sanchez, secretaries; Rev. B. H. Pearson, treasurer, and Rev. Severiano Valdez.

Conditions in the religious life in Mexico will be discussed during the meeting and problems confronting young people of the churches will be another subject for discussion.

BOOK CLUB MEETS AT IRVINE PARK TO NAME OFFICERS

NEWPORT BEACH, Friday, May 17.—Election of officers for the coming year was to feature the final meeting of the Balboa Island Friday Morning Book club this afternoon at Irvine park. The meeting will be a picnic affair under the direction of the president, Mrs. Raymond Harvey. The members and guests were to meet at the home of Mrs. Harvey and then proceed to the park in a body.

Plans for the picnic were formulated at the last meeting of the group, held at the home of Mrs. J. B. Parks. Book reviews given at the meeting included Gringa, by Emma L. Squires, reviewed by Mrs. A. S. Richardson, Brazilian Adventure, by John Fleming, discussed by Mrs. Ralph Reed, and Lee Shippey's Where Nothing Ever Happens, reviewed by Mrs. R. D. Fisher.

Fords at Summer Home for Few Days

SAN CLEMENTE, Friday, May 17.—Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Ford of Arlington, California, are spending a few days at their summer home on Avenida Monterey in San Clemente.

Mrs. Ella Bevans and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bevans, son and daughter-in-law, have taken the Ahern home on West Portal in San Clemente for a few months.

New Exhibit Opens in Laguna Gallery

LAGUNA BEACH, Friday, May 17.—A new exhibit that opened in the art gallery here this week features the works of three prominent artists—Karl Yens, Thomas L. Hunt and Elsie Louder Pomeroy.

Mr. Yens is showing five etchings and 11 of his artists prints of oldtime scenes in Laguna. He is also exhibiting 22 water colors.

QUINTS AT H. S. AFFAIR Argonaut Day Is Observed

GARDEN GROVE, Friday, May 17.—Imagine the surprise when the Dionne quintuplets and their complete household appeared at Garden Grove high school, Wednesday! Argonaut day was celebrated and the Jungle club, whose members appeared as the Dionne family won the prize offered for the club having the largest percentage of its members in costumes.

Ethel Chaffee, Alma May Smiley, Eleanor Brady, Donita Jordan and Betty Epps were the quintuplets. Franklin McDonald was the mother, Leonard Schauer the father, Glen Killingbeck and Fern Schmitz were the nurses, Bob McClain and Joe Kobayashi the doctors. Appearing as the other Dionne children were Frances Merchant, Joy Schnitzer, Shelly Lewis, June Mutz and Lawrence Trickey. The photographer was John Murphy.

Other prizes were presented Dorothy Smith and Sam Bragg as the most typical Argonaut girl and boy, Ruth Leslie Mitchell and Walter Ziegler as the best looking boy and girl, and Dorothy Beardsley and Bud Hagerman as the most comical.

Several covered wagons and other pioneer equipment were seen in the parade at noon. The afternoon was devoted to a series of sports events and contests.

May Party Is Event of Club
GARDEN GROVE, Friday, May 17.—A pretty May day motif was used by the Business and Professional Women's social club for the dessert bridge given Wednesday evening at the Legion hall in observance of "Guest Night." The hostess committee consisted of Mrs. Lillian Lovett, Mrs. Alice T. Smith, Miss Myrtle Ziegler, Mrs. Niota Sparks and Mrs. Helen Engen.

Tall pastel colored tapers wrapped as May poles with similarly colored crepe paper dolls at each place were lighted as the dessert was served. This consisted of ices shaped as small May baskets, dainty wafers and coffee. The guests were introduced during this period.

Auction prizes for high score were taken by Mrs. Olive L. Ford for the guests and Miss Frances Dungan for the members. Feature prizes distributed throughout the evening were presented Mrs. Vivian Smith, Mrs. Helena Virgin, Mrs. Mary Bradley and Miss Myra Lake, guests, and Mrs. Blanche Wisner, Mrs. Alice Keele, Miss Frances Dungan, Mrs. Zelma Van derLinde, Miss Marcella Turner, Mrs. Mabel Wilkinson, Mrs. Genevieve Crosby, and Mrs. Marion Smith, members.

Other guests present were Mesdames Juanita Harmon, Nelle Harbottle, Helen Edwards, Bertha Delano MacCracken, Genevieve Fording, Velma New, Marguerite Mitchell, Mabel Dole, Ethel Evans, Mabel Williams, Laura Smith, Emma Henry, Ruth Mitchell, Phyllis Kraushaar, Misses Ruth Potter of Anaheim, Frances Hammonree, Esther Cockerham, and Abby Chapman.

Other members attending were Mesdames Nelda Potts, Clara Bruderie, Louis Lake, Clara Busker, Anne Ashley, Mildred Johnson, Irene Reafsnider, Hilda Reafsnider and the Misses Fairs Virgin, Eva Lake, Helen Knox, Clara Carmichael and Marcia Carmichael.

ANAHEIM C. OF C. OKEHS COUNTY FISHING RESERVE

ANAHEIM, Friday, May 17.—Directors of the Anaheim chamber of commerce adopted a resolution approving proposed legislation which would create a three-mile fishing preserve on the entire Orange county coastline at the regular meeting yesterday.

Secretary George Reid was instructed to write Ted Craig, speaker of the assembly, telling of the chamber's support of the bill.

Plans for entertaining visitors who pass through Anaheim on the way to the San Diego exposition were discussed.

ORANGE ROTARIANS HEAR SPEECHES

ORANGE, Friday, May 17.—The Orange Rotary club heard three minute speeches on the Santa Monica convention Thursday at a regular noon luncheon meeting at the American Legion hall.

Harry Gail was program chairman. D. F. Campbell reported on boys' work; C. E. Lush on the entertainment provided for the ladies; Donald Smiley on business matters and Kemper Anderson, Jack Clayton and B. R. Douglas, M. M. Fishback, items of general interest. Justin Craemer then told of his interesting plane trip to New Orleans to attend the N. E. A. convention. The club was glad to welcome back the president, C. H. Robinson, who has been ill for the past week.

CZECHS PLAN STATE PRAHA

PRAHA (AP)—The municipal government of Czechoslovakia's capital has voted to erect an heroic statue of Moses in the former ghetto here. The monument to the Jewish law-giver will be by Josef Blek and will go up in front of the Altneu synagogue, a 14th century Gothic structure and the oldest synagogue in Europe.

FUTURE FARMER WORK IS TOLD FARM CENTER

PLACENTIA, Friday, May 17.—George P. Weldon, instructor at Chaffey junior college, was speaker at a combined meeting of the Placentia farm center and the Pioneer Men's Brotherhood in the Bradford school cafeteria last night.

Weldon discussed Smith-Hughes agricultural courses in high schools and told of organization of Future Farmers of America, an organization of 90,000 students interested in agricultural work. He explained project work, which is a part of the Smith-Hughes plan and pointed out its value in a citrus district such as Placentia.

New officers of the brotherhood for next year were elected, with Ed Eisenacher, president for the past year, chosen for the office again. Ralph McFadden was elected vice president and Leonard Hummel re-elected secretary-treasurer. S. C. Harmony reported for the nominating committee. Fred Gleason, president, presided at a short farm center meeting, with Ralph McFadden reporting on the last meeting of the county farm bureau. Farm center members endorsed action of the Placentia board of education in arranging for a Smith-Hughes course at Valencia high school next year.

FARM LEADERS SHOW SAVING TO GROWERS

Because of ample rains during the past winter, Orange county citrus growers and others will be able to dispense with one, and perhaps two irrigations this season. The amount of water thus saved on orange and lemon groves alone would be approximately 180,000 acre-inches.

This condition was indicated yesterday when Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg, assisted by W. R. Schoonover, citrus specialist for the agricultural extension service, and Lee Hewitt, of the agricultural commissioner's office here, conducted demonstrations in two citrus groves. The events took place at the J. M. Callan orchard on Orangeflower avenue, and the Barnes-Bruner grove on Tustin avenue northeast of Orange, and were attended by 450 growers.

No immediate need. Mr. Wahlberg urged each grower to study his own soil before determining the proper time to irrigate. Tests made showed no immediate need of water on the sandy loam of Mr. Callan's grove or the clay loam at the Barnes-Bruner orchard.

Cost of production studies during the past nine years have brought about the conclusion that 16 to 18 acre inches of water per year will bring the best results, Mr. Wahlberg said.

Recent developments in scaly bark control were outlined, it being shown that treatment is largely a matter of controlling the disease rather than securing it.

Next Tuesday a demonstration on treatment of brown rot gummosis will be staged on the Jacob Mumm orchard on Dale avenue, north of Ball road.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Officers elected in Miss Florence Kline's home room at Julia La-throp school recently were Wynnette Todd, president; Bill Thompson, vice president; Betty Schrader, secretary; Lela Slayback, girls' sergeant-at-arms; Dewitt Spring Meyer, boys' sergeant-at-arms, and Ralph Shallenberger, boys' athletic manager.

A. J. M'FADDEN, AFTER TRIP TO WASHINGTON, SAYS PEOPLE WOULD SEEK OWN SOLUTIONS

Leave us alone, and let us work out our own problems in our own way.

This is the sentiment of a cross section of the people of the United States, as expressed to A. J. M'Fadden, vice president of the California Walnut Growers association and president of the California Persimmon Growers association, who returned to Santa Ana last night after a three week's trip to Washington, D. C.

Speaks in Capitol. While in Washington, Mr. M'Fadden delivered an address at the annual meeting of the United States chamber of commerce, speaking on surplus control of agricultural products.

In that talk Mr. M'Fadden reflected the opinions of California growers. He told his listeners that in this state the people believe in surplus control but not production control. In other words, "they do not wish to be told how much they can produce," but they do believe in planned control of their surplus. And especially they want to work out their problems in their own way without governmental interference.

Although Mr. M'Fadden found a general feeling of satisfaction throughout the nation in respect to general conditions and tendency toward an upturn, he said on his return, "there seems to be a growing feeling of resentment against the government regulation of any kind and an increase in desire that individual rights at least be preserved from further interference on the part of any governmental agency."

Crop Outlook Good. Mr. M'Fadden reported that throughout the nation the country looks green and beautiful as a result of generally copious rains during the past season. The outlook for good crops is good unless unforeseen conditions develop, he indicated.

"Recalling the impression acquired on a trip across the continent by the southern route, several days spent in Washington at the annual meeting of the United States chamber of commerce, and return by way of Chicago and the northwest, the one thing that remains most clearly in my mind is the universal disposition on the part of the people with whom I talked to think for themselves on all questions now before us for solution," Mr. M'Fadden said.

"There is little disposition to follow anyone with unquestioning faith. Every plan, whether already in operation or proposed for future trial, must undergo a critical inspection, and if it has any weak points they will certainly be seized upon and a demand made that doubts be cleared up."

In speaking of the growing feeling of resentment against government regulation, Mr. M'Fadden said:

"This feeling may prove a hindrance to some worthy projects in the future, but on the whole it seems to be a healthy symptom. I come back home with renewed confidence that the fundamental principles upon which our social system has reached its present state are in no danger of serious impairment."

Navy Fleets Holding Sea 'Battle' Today

WITH THE UNITED STATES FLEET, Friday, May 17. (AP)—In a dramatic game of hide-and-seek, two great sea forces of the United States fleet today moved toward a crucial "battle" to test their actual war-time strength.

With ships' radios silenced to avoid giving away their movements to the "enemy," Admiral Harris Laning's mighty white fleet sought to track down and cripple the main battle force of the dangerous black fleet, under command of Admiral Arthur J. Hepburn.

Every fighting element of the two fleets, from airplanes to submarines, from battleships to landing parties of marines, was called into action.

LEGION AUXILIARY IN REGULAR MEET

ORANGE, Friday, May 17.—The American Legion Auxiliary met in the Legion hall Thursday afternoon, and while business was transacted, the members pasted tags on poppies to be sold on May 25. Flowers will be donated and brought to the hall to be made into wreaths on the afternoon of May 29, to be used in Decoration day services. Orange unit will decorate the memorial shaft and graves of all soldiers in Fairhaven cemetery. Memorial services will be held at 9 o'clock, May 30, in Fairhaven cemetery was announced today by William E. Bruce, commander of Tustin post of the American Legion. Joint rites will be held by Santa Ana, Tustin, and Orange posts, and their auxiliaries with Tustin in charge of arrangements.

An invocation will be followed by placing of a commemorative wreath on a monument to veterans of the World war. The Santa Ana drum corps has been invited to head the parade which will march from the gate of the cemetery to the location of the services.

Disabled American Veterans, members of all other veterans' organizations, and sons of the Legionnaires, have been invited to participate in the rites.

PLAN TO BUILD MODEL HOME

Plans for construction of a model home under title two of the FHA featured the meeting this noon of the Santa Ana Realty board at James cafe. Carl Mock, president of the board, pointed out the fact that San Bernardino has already made plans for the construction of such a home. Members of the board will meet with the San Bernardino realty board Monday.

James H. Berry, FHA field supervisor, told members of the board that last week, men working out of the Santa Ana office of the FHA had made 256 calls resulting in 60 prospects for title one and 19 for title two. He said that the reports showed that there were 40 places where construction had been done or was under way as a result of the first FHA survey. In all, there has been a total of 513 calls made revealing that there are 114 prospects for title one and 48 for title two.

Mr. Berry also announced today that there would be a man placed in the chamber of commerce offices here next week for the purpose of assisting those desirous of a loan.

SEE IMPROVEMENT IN MARKETING OF TOMATOES

Developments which it is hoped will bring about a distinct improvement in the marketing of tomatoes were revealed at last night's meeting of the vegetable department of the Orange county farm bureau in the bureau offices here.

It was reported that this week an agreement has been reached with the canners' association, which favors establishment of a state grading system for tomatoes. A bill is now in the legislature to provide for such action. It also was reported that the canners and growers will meet this summer to work out a system of contracts between the two groups which the growers hope will result in a better method of handling their canning tomatoes.

T. H. Robertson, chairman of the State Farm bureau vegetable department, outlined operation of county marketing units.

A special meeting of the department will be held next Friday to hear a report from the inter-county committee that has been working on cooperative marketing problems.

DENY RULINGS ON EXCHANGE GROUPS

Information was obtained today from federal authorities at Los Angeles who assist cooperative exchanges, to the effect that these authorities issue no statements and make no public rulings in regards to legality of the action of the exchanges.

The information was obtained in connection with a recently published story which said that action of United Cooperative exchange No. 1 in electing George Clark president had been ruled illegal, and three meetings had been ruled unconstitutional by federal authorities. The Los Angeles office makes no rulings one way or the other, it was said.

England, France and Italy Schedule Conversations

LONDON, Friday, May 17. (AP)—Great Britain, France and Italy will hold private conversations at Geneva next week, it was stated authoritatively today, in an effort to find some way to settle the Italo-Ethiopian quarrel.

Plans for these talks were revealed after Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, and other British officials conferred with Sir Eric Drummond, the British ambassador to Rome, whom the foreign office hurriedly summoned home after Premier Mussolini's "hands off" Ethiopia speech this week.

After Drummond's arrival, rumors ran about Whitehall that Il Duce, late at Britain's expressed intention to try to forestall war in Africa, had refused to receive the envoy.

The Labor Minister of Germany will issue obligatory "labor passports" for all workers.

MEMORIAL DAY ADDRESS SET

That Franklin G. West, Santa Ana Legionnaire and attorney, will give the Memorial day address at services at 9 o'clock, May 30, in Fairhaven cemetery was announced today by William E. Bruce, commander of Tustin post of the American Legion. Joint rites will be held by Santa Ana, Tustin, and Orange posts, and their auxiliaries with Tustin in charge of arrangements.

An invocation will be followed by placing of a commemorative wreath on a monument to veterans of the World war. The Santa Ana drum corps has been invited to head the parade which will march from the gate of the cemetery to the location of the services.

LOCAL DOG WINS PRIZE IN L. A.

Another Santa Ana dog, showing for the first time, has brought honors to the elite of the city's dogdom. Square Shooter's Binssey, Boston terrier puppy owned by Randall's Kennels, showing for the first time, last Saturday, in Los Angeles won two blue ribbons in competition with 68 other puppies.

Mrs. Charles Randall showed her pup, grandson of Square Shooter, International champion, in the Los Angeles Boston Terrier club puppy match and returned with blue ribbons awarded the dog for first place in opposite sex class for puppies from four to six months and for first place in the female class for puppies from four to six months old.

TO SHOW RECIPES

The Garden Grove Farm center home department will witness a demonstration of various ways of serving avocados, in charge of Mrs. B. H. Sharpless, Tustin, next Tuesday. The meeting will be at 2 p. m. in the Garden Grove Women's clubhouse.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB ENTERTAINS BOYS

Preparatory to public performances, the girls' glee club of La-throp entertained the boys' glee yesterday with a two-act play entitled "Gold Tree and Silver Tree." Parts were taken by Emma Vanderhurst, Adelaide Johnson, Marjorie McCune, Betty Jo Henderson, Lucille Dehne, Helen Herren, Anita Smith, Virginia Caldwell, Grace Heaney, Evelyn Converse, Virginia Waters and Dorothy Krisher.

Others participating were Beryl Jean Wilson, Marjorie Ball, Margaret Beeson and Alice Clare McFarland, who announced the program. Ensemble numbers were given by the entire club.

8 FROM COUNTY LEAVE U. C.

Eight students of Orange county were among those receiving degrees in the University of California's special graduation ceremony in Berkeley today. The second half of the 72nd commencement exercises will be held tomorrow afternoon.

Five hundred higher and professional degrees and 248 certificates of graduation were awarded.

Kaps Gets B. S. The degree of bachelor of science was conferred upon Clayton S. Kaps of Santa Ana. Miss Mary Evelyn Parke of Orange and Louis O. Ridder of Santa Ana received masters of arts degrees. Miss Helen Wainwright Ackley of Anaheim and Miss Elizabeth Helen Zerbe were awarded the degree of bachelor of science in the curriculum in nursing.

Miss Zerbe also received a certificate of completion of the five-year curriculum in the training school for nurses. A certificate of completion in the non-degree curriculum of the college of agriculture was granted Robert Coverdale Broomell of Santa Ana and Roland Robert Wood of Orange.

Georges Carpentier, former European heavyweight boxing champion, has just opened a cocktail bar in the Etolie Quarter of Paris.

SANTA ANA STARS PLAY AT WESTMINSTER

Column Left!

By FRANK ROGERS

With glinting eye and heavy foot, George Lackaye stomped in to see us yesterday.

George, it seems, had a suggestion to make. "I had heard us, or rather seen us, doing so much yammering about Jim Coates and Chico Sabella, softball pitchers of sorts, in this department."

What he had on his mind was one Errington chucker for the Westminster Aviators who tangle with the Stars tonight at Westminster. With all the proper pride of a good manager, Lackaye suggested we come out and have a look at his moundsman before we talk more about Coates and Sabella.

Fair enough, too, isn't it. It just happens we have never seen these new Aviators play ball, and none of our tipsters have offered any information about Errington.

But tonight we'll look 'em over and promise a complete report on the morrow.

If Babe Didrickson is your husky heroine, please skip this paragraph.

Why, in the name of an otherwise peaceful world, should all this fuss be made about the amateur standing of the golfer? It has been proven in newspaper and magazine advertisements as well as other forms of nuisances, earned at least a part of her income by her athletic prowess.

No disgrace, that, surely. But a pro, like a lefthander, is a pro in everything. The various golf moguls that have closed the gate to her on this or that tourney have started a hurricane or comment and we can see little reason for it.

Babe is, or will be, enough of a golfer, to go out and play for keeps with the girls.

Wrestling, if you ask us, reaches its ultimate ignominy next Wednesday night in Los Angeles.

Man Mountain Dean "faces" Kiman Kudo of Japan. Dean weighs 317—Kudo weighs 170 soaking wet in his overcoat. That's a brains against blubber battle if we ever heard of one.

News that one of Santa Ana's badminton players is going places (see next column) releases some pent-up thoughts.

To many it may compare to tennis as pee-wee golf did to the real thing, but to most it is a sport alive and apart.

We have found, in our goings around, few who have played it and still fewer who appreciate it.

Next time you hear a couple of experts scheduled to meet, go around and have a look see. It combines the skill of tennis, the speed of handball and the finesse of taking a trick with every queen.

For months in another town we advocated starting the sport. Finally, two stars were induced to put on an exhibition and some of our friends who couldn't think of excuses fast enough went around to see.

We made the mistake of asking one the next day how he liked it. "Humph," he humphed, "those guys didn't even have a ball!"

Don Golfers Seek Honors at Riverside

Already having won the dual meet championship, Santa Ana junior college's top-ranking golfers seek additional honors in the annual Eastern all-conference tournament over the Victoria course in Riverside beginning at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

Pomona and Riverside will be Santa Ana's chief competitors. San Bernardino, Chaffey, Fullerton and Citrus did not sponsor a complete team this year, but all may send a few divot-diggers to the Riverside tourney.

Capt. Leo Abbott, Gene Corson, Tom Kistinger, Clifford Lee and Preston Piper will comprise the five-man delegation of the Santa Ana champions.

WILD GAME IN COAST LEAGUE

To Sacramento and Hollywood goes the credit for playing the only low score ball game in two days in the Pacific Coast League.

Paul Gregory of the Soles, and Wally Hebert of the Stars pitched a nip-and-tuck game yesterday with Gregory faltering in the eighth to issue two passes which were followed by an infield hit to score two runs. Hollywood won 3 to 1.

Portland and San Francisco indulged in one of those free hitting fiascos which two Beaver and five Seal pitchers were unable to stem. The Portland Beavers won 14 to 9.

L. A. Wins
In another batter's orgy Los Angeles took the deciding game of the series from Seattle, decidedly and effectively, 13 to 4. A vicious assault gave the Angels 19 hits while 15 Tribe bingles only brought in 4 runs.

The league-leading Oaks took the cellar Missions into camp 10 to 2, getting four circuit blows while doing it. Anton had a perfect day at bat, getting one home run, a triple and three singles.

IRVINE DEFEATS BANKERS, 14-3

Irvine of the Orange county league swamped the Commercial National bank team of the Santa Ana City League, 14-3, in an exhibition softball game at Irvine last night.

Hal Youel, Santa Ana who plays second base for Irvine, clouted a home run from Irvine, clouted a home run from Irvine, clouted 13 hits, the Commercial 4.

VALENCIA NINE BEATS L. B.

Clarence Bishop's Valencia high school baseball team, playing San Diego high in a C. I. F. semi-final playoff game today, trimmed the Long Beach American Legion Juniors, 12-4, at Placentia yesterday.

Del Jones pitched the first five innings for Bishop and allowed only two hits, but four runs were scored on two walks and a pair of errors. Melvin "Spider" Cox, who was scheduled to start against the San Diego team today, pitched the last two innings and held the Legion players hitless while striking out four.

Del Jones starred at bat with two home runs and a double in four attempts.

Best-Ball Foursome Held for Ladies At S. A. Country Club

Mrs. W. M. Prince, Mrs. R. T. Cartwright, Mrs. Don Andrews and Mrs. R. W. Weston won the best-ball foursome in a ladies' tournament at the Santa Ana country club yesterday. They shot an 87-26-61. Mrs. L. H. Robinson, Mrs. L. J. Bushard, Mrs. W. F. Kistinger and Mrs. Harry Bakre were second with 82-15-67.

RUTH DENIES REPORT OF QUITTING

By BOB CAVAGNARO
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Friday, May 17. (AP)—Babe Ruth's future in baseball took the shape of a huge question mark again today.

In one breath the big fellow, now 41 years old, somewhat angrily denied published reports that he was "all washed up" and intended to quit as a player on completion of the Boston Braves' swing through the West, starting today in St. Louis.

Might Retire
Then he lent credence to the report by saying he might put himself on the voluntary retired list soon if he were unable to shake off a cold which he said had been cramping his style.

"There's not a word of truth in the New York story," Ruth roared as he checked in at a St. Louis hotel. "I will say, however, that I have not been myself by a whole lot so far this spring and, unless I am able to shake the present cold that has severely handicapped me for several weeks, there is a possibility I will ask to be put on the voluntary retired list."

Ruth said the cold had affected his eyes, causing them to water constantly. Consequently he can't draw a bead on the ball as of old.

Otherwise, he said, he's in good shape and he hasn't felt "any aches or any real fatigue since the spring training."

Since the start of the season, the Babe has slowed up to a walk in the field. He has taken part in 15 of the Redskins' 20 games and has only two home runs to his credit as part of an embarrassingly low batting average.

National league twirlers are whispering that the erstwhile big slugger can't hit a low ball effectively any more.

President Fuchs believes Ruth's future depends on the Bambino's showing on the western trip.

S. C. TRACKMEN TREK NORTH

LOS ANGELES, Friday, May 17. (AP)—Leaving behind a couple of pole vaulters, a shotputter and a javelin thrower, 15 track and field athletes from University of Southern California will compete tomorrow in the California collegiate championships at Palo Alto.

The four field men were eliminated to conform to entrance limit regulations.

Sprints—Draper, Boone, Crane and Fitch; quarter, McCarthy, Cassin and Johnson; half, Bush and Cartwright; mile, Benavidez and Zamperini; two-mile, Lantz and Yates; high hurdles, Cope and Staley; low hurdles, Paul, Hall and Strother; relay, McCarthy, Cassin, Johnson and Fitch; pole vault, Meadows and Sefton; high jump, Spicer; broad jump, Olson, Crawford and Jungkeit; discus, Carpenter.

LINDLEY STARS AS H. B. WINS

Although they dropped their game, 6-5, the Santa Ana Elks uncovered a new pitching star in Ellwood Lindley against the Huntington Beach nine of the Orange County league at Huntington Beach last night.

Lindley allowed but five hits and struck out 11 of the winners. He will start for the Elks in all future City league assignments, according to Manager Ken Miller.

Pasadena Offers Dons Spring Grid Game But Santa Ana Refuses

An offer from Pasadena of the Western division to meet Santa Ana junior college in a football game as a climax to spring practice this month will not be accepted by Coach Bill Cook of the Dons, he said today. Cook plans to stress only fundamentals in his daily drills.

FREDDIE STEELE WINS
TACOMA, Friday, May 17. (AP) Freddie Steele, Tacoma middleweight, pounded out a decision over Mike Payan, San Diego, in 10 rounds here last night.

ZACHARY HERO FOR DODGERS

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Look down the list of Brooklyn's pitchers and among the most dependable of the crew you'll find Jonathon Thompson Zachary, who has been known as "Old Tom" for so long some fans can hardly believe he ever was a youngster.

Making his first appearance in the majors with the Athletics back in 1918, Zachary has played with six clubs in the two circuits, pitched in three world series and has been cast adrift so often he's quite accustomed to having his name on the waiver list.

In his last three appearances, "Old" Tom has allowed two runs in 31 innings. He dropped a 1-0 decision to Pittsburgh and Cy Blanton on a home run, trimmed the Reds 6-1 and finally shut out the Pirates yesterday, 2 to 0 in a 13-inning mound duel with Waite Hoyt, who has an equally long record.

The triumph in the only game on the National league schedule left the Dodgers just one game behind the league-leading New York Giants.

Tigers Advance
In the American league, where two games were scheduled, the Yankees took a firmer hold on fourth by handing the second-place Indians their first shutout of the season, 10 to 0, and the Tigers advanced to a fifth-place tie with Washington by trimming the Senators, 7 to 2.

Manager Joe McCarthy, recovering from an influenza attack which forced him to miss the Yankees' western tour, got back on the bench in time to see Vito Tamulis, rookie Southpaw, scatter seven hits nicely to administer the whitewashing.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By the Associated Press
BILL DICKEY, Yankees—Led assault on Indians with triple, two doubles and single, driving in three runs.

TOM ZACHARY and FRENCH BORDAGARY, Dodgers—Zachary shut out Pirates in 13-inning game, Bordagary made two hits, stole two bases and scored winning run.

TOMMY BRIDGES, Tigers—Limited Senators to six hits for 7-2 victory, fanning nine.

The rise of Corbett, a San Francisco bank clerk, marked the end of the bare knuckle days and the beginning of the gloved fist era of today. (Corbett's black-trunk fighter).

John Raitt and Bill Hawkins are Favored In C. I. F. Track Meet

Orange county will send quality but not quantity into the twenty-third annual track and field championships for Southern California high schools at the Los Angeles coliseum tomorrow. Interest in this vicinity will center around the high hurdles and shot-put in which Captain Bill Hawkins of Santa Ana and John Raitt of Fullerton are favored to garner first places, respectively.

Select Heats
Announcement today of heats for preliminaries, which will be conducted in the morning, revealed the towering Hawkins must compete with the Southland's fastest hurdlers in order to enter the afternoon finals.

He is listed in the second heat with Sangster of Muir Tech, Fortness of Santa Paula, Davis of Inglewood, Lindell of Monrovia, Hogan of Los Angeles Poly, and Laceyfield of Jefferson, all of whom have been clocked under 16 flat consistently. Laceyfield has done 15.6, Hawkins 15.2. Hawkins will do well to place in the lower.

The bespectacled John Raitt of Fullerton hopes to dominate the shot. His coach, Harold Lang, feels confident Raitt can break John Lyman's all-time mark of 54 ft. 7 in. set in 1930. John's strongest opposition probably will be furnished by Hubert of Glendale Hoover.

Anahim is banking on Frankie Ochoa to finish well in the mile.

Whitney May Win
Herschel Whitney, 1320-yard run, and Cameron Gillis, broad jump, may bring home two Class B victories for Santa Ana. Newport Harbor's "Bud" Griffin, a 12-ft. vaulter, is another potential champion.

Frank Wykoff's 1927 record of 21.4 seconds may fall when Brainard Worrell, Pasadena Muir-Tech's heavyweight negro, George Sims of Santa Monica, Bill Gregory of Long Beach Jordan and Allen of Jefferson hook up in the 220-yard dash. Worrell faces Tom Nelson of Pasadena in the second heat of the century tomorrow morning, and Gregory will vie with the touted Henry Gonzales of Roosevelt.

Prep Records
Southland records follow: 100-yard dash—Milton Holt (Glendale Hoover), 1932, 9.7 secs.; 220—Frank Wykoff (Glendale high), 1927 and George Anderson (Pasadena Muir-Tech), 1932, 21.4 secs.; 440—Myrel Gillette (El Centro), 1933, 45.3 secs.; 880—Ray Cartwright (Santa Ana), 1932, 1 min. 56.6 secs.; mile—Louis Zamperini (Torrance), 1934, 4 min. 21.3 secs.; high hurdles—LeRoy Kirkpatrick (El Centro), 1934, 14.5 secs.; low hurdles—Jim Payne (San Bernardino), 1926, and LeRoy Kirkpatrick (El Centro), 1934, 23.8 secs.; relay—Manual Arts of Los Angeles, 1934, 1 min. 27.7 secs.; shot—John Lyman (Santa Monica), 1930, 54 ft. 7 in.; discus—Clarence Houser (Oxnard), 1932, 147 ft. 6 in.; high jump—Cornelius Johnson (Los Angeles high), 1932, 6 ft. 5 in.; broad jump—Don Skinner (Manual Arts), 1934, 23

Living up to advance notices, the First National bank and 20-30 club softball teams moved down their respective opponents—the M. E. Church Juniors and Seniors—to rise to the top of City league standings at the bowl last night.

Jordan Fans Nine
Nine strike-outs by Walt Jordan held the Methodist Juniors under control while the Bankers piled up a 12-5 victory. The First Nationals scored seven times in a wild first-inning rally, featuring a long home run by Pitcher Jordan.

Behind the three-hit hurling of Claude Gregory, Santa Ana's 20-30 organization clubbed its way to a 7-3 triumph over M. E. South's Seniors.

Share Lead
Santa Ana's Elks and the Commercial National Bank share the lead with last night's victories. The Elks bested Union Oil, 1-0, in a pitching duel Monday, and the Commercial swamped the Methodist Juniors, 10-3.

Next week's schedule: Monday, Elks vs. M. E. South Juniors; Commercial National vs. Union Oil. Thursday, First National vs. M. E. South Seniors; Commercial National vs. 20-30 club.

Games Tonight
Santa Ana at Westminster;
Long Beach at Huntington Beach;
Anaheim at Olive.

Revising his lineup by shifting Francis Conrad to the lead-off position and inserting Leavitt Daley in the outfield, Manager Bill Cole sends his Santa Ana Stars against Manager George Lackaye's Westminster Aviators on the Westminster diamond at 8 o'clock tonight.

Both aggregations came through their National league openers in fine style, Santa Ana bowling over Olive's Packers and Westminster taming the Long Beach Admirals. Both victories were by 8-2 scores.

Evenly Matched
The Stars and Flyers appear so evenly matched that either may win in what should be a nip-and-tuck fight from the very start.

Two of the ablest pitchers in night ball—Jim Coates of Santa Ana, "Fuzzy" Errington of Westminster—will attempt to keep their respective teams out of the defeat column. Manager Lackaye says he wouldn't trade Errington for anything in the league. Manager Cole feels the same way about Coates.

Santa Ana appears to have a slight edge in fielding. In the pitching and batting departments there can be found little difference between the two clubs.

Ed vs. Leavitt
The two Daley brothers, Ed and Leavitt, will occupy the clean-up positions—Ed catching for Westminster, Leavitt playing right field for Santa Ana.

FOURTEEN SPEED MARKS SET BY PILOTS ON 31,000-MILE FLIGHT

AVOCADO MEN TO RECEIVE PAYMENTS

Orange county avocado growers will be able to jingle more dollars in their pockets during the next few days. They will receive their share of a $30,000 partial payment on the April Calavo marketing pool. The payment will push the total distribution this week to Southland Calavo growers up to the $100,000 mark. It was announced by the Calavo organization.

Despite a bumper crop, the marketing program has held the price to a satisfactory level, the organization's report indicated. March fruit deliveries, for instance, totaled 2,488,239 pounds. This was two and one-half times the December total and more than the total 1933 harvest. The March pool contained 80 per cent more fruit than that of January, yet the price was within 5 per cent of the January price. The per pound returns for March were the same as those for December, the report said.

Better Fuertes
"Better Fuertes in March, making up the bulk of the pool, will return a total of approximately 5 cents per pound 'net' to the growers at their groves," the announcement said.

F. R. Wilcox of the University of California, in a recent address, said that seven times more fruit has been sold in the East this year, and four times more in the West, through cooperative marketing effort. He said the assured sale of the 1935 crop is a particularly noteworthy achievement.

Last week growers received $74,765.75 from their grower-owned marketing program, including $31,538.65 as a dividend covering all fruit handled up to April 1, $40,404.29 for the March pool's final payments, and two other small payments.

CHANEY SPEAKS AT EVENING SCHOOL

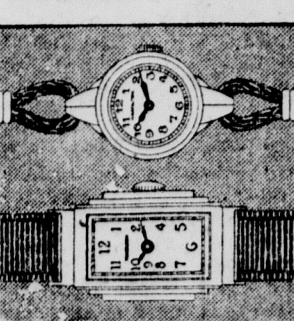

"Population and industry will be gradually decentralized as we get universal electrification," said Homer C. Chaney in his address on "Probable Economic Trends" last night at the Willard evening high school.

Stability of prices will be obtained only when we approach an equality in the ratio between consumption and savings and the ratio between production of consumption and production of investments, he continued.

BIGGEST COUNTY CITIZENSHIP CLASS TO BE UP JUNE 12

The largest naturalization class in the history of Orange county will appear before Presiding Judge James L. Allen on June 12 to receive their first United States citizenship papers according to a check of applications on file with County Clerk J. M. Backs. Petitions seeking the right to renounce allegiance to their native lands have been filed by 59 persons. All of the applicants, with but two exceptions, are residents of Orange county. The exceptions are residents of Long Beach.

While the time for filing first applications for citizenship examinations with the June class has expired the list may be swelled by applications for repatriation filed before the date of examination. Such applications may be filed at any time.

Following is a list of persons who will appear before Judge Allen and a federal examiner.
Rusia; Emma Eggert, Orange, Russia; Mrs. Maria del Refugio B. IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS! Post Office Was Rendezvous

Where did you go in 1902 if you had a choice morsel of gossip? Where did you go in 1902 to show off a new dress? Where did you go in 1902 to hear about the new girl in town?

E. G. Glenn will tell you—the old red brick postoffice on fourth street, in the Spurgeon block, on Sundays after church.

Deliveries were made six days a week, but Sundays brought the soup strainers and pompadours into the postoffice if they wanted their mail. "It was quite a gathering," Mr. Glenn said.

Made Trip in Wagon
Retirement this week from the postoffice force recalled for Mr. Glenn the days when he first carried mail in Santa Ana 33 years ago. He had a horse and light-weight wagon, set high on wheels, which made his 20-mile route every day. It was a real thrill for the neighborhood "kids" to go along to help the mailman. Lawrence Eaton, now an established rancher, was the one who was generally lucky.

"We carried about the same amount of mail as the men do now, except, of course, that we had to take it over a much larger territory. We delivered the parcel post, too," Mr. Glenn said.

One delivery a day was made, except for the territory close in the city, which had a second bicycle trip.

"We worked every day then, except for our annual 15-day vacation. Christmas was a hard day, from 5 in the morning to 8 o'clock at night," he said.

One Paved Street
There weren't any sidewalks, and Eighteenth and Broadway, where Mr. Glenn lives, was practically "country." Main street was the only paved thoroughfare, and it had a trolley car which ran from Santa Ana to Orange.

"We used to call it the peanut roaster," Mr. Glenn said. "Bicycle parties used to take trips along the tracks."

The mail system hasn't changed so much, Mr. Glenn believed; it was only the community and styles that had changed. Letters came from distant places about as often as they do now, and people were just as glad to get mail then as they are today.

Unemployment is rare and wages comparatively high in Pajonaga.

NON-STOP TRIP FINISHED IN 19 HOURS

Pilots Land in Floyd Bennett Field at 1:10 This Morning

NEW YORK, Friday, May 17. (AP)—Fourteen speed records were marked up today for a twin-motored transport plane at the end of a nonstop 3100-mile flight over a course between Washington, Norfolk, Va., and New York.

The records were set by Daniel W. Tomlinson, former navy flier, and Joseph E. Bartles, flying a TWA Douglas airliner for more than 19 hours. They landed at Floyd Bennett field today at 1:10 a. m., eastern standard time.

Wife Greets Ace
Tomlinson, one-time member of the navy's famous acrobatic team of Sea Hawks, emerged smiling from the plane, showing little sign of fatigue. His wife, who had spent the entire time at the field following the progress of the flight, rushed to greet him. "Boy, am I going to do some tall sleeping?" remarked Tomlinson. Bartles agreed.

3000 Miles
The fliers, starting from Floyd Bennett field at 5:59 a. m. yesterday, covered 3106.849 miles.

They covered four laps of a triangular course of 621 miles between Floyd Bennett field, Bolling field, Washington, and Willoughby Spit, Norfolk, Va.

Because of poor flying conditions around Norfolk last night, a fifth lap was abandoned, and the final 621 miles were flown to and from Bolling field and then over a course between Floyd Bennett field, Newark airport and North Beach airport, Queens.

On the first four laps the average speeds were, respectively, 168.047, 174.296, 172.976 and 171.03 miles an hour. The speed for the final 1000 kilometers was not officially announced, but was approximately 160 miles an hour. The average speed for the entire flight was 169.031.

PUBLIC SCHOOL MUSIC GROUP TO HOLD ELECTION

Officers will be elected Monday at the meeting of the Orange county public school music association to be held at 6:30 at the First Christian church.

"The relation of Music and Art" will be the subject of a talk by Mr. Danz. Special music will be presented by a male quartet composed of John Peterson, superintendent of Ocean View; Orion Bebermeyer, superintendent of Westminster schools; Manville Saxton, music instructor of Ocean View; Ray Elliot, vice principal of Huntington Beach high. Mrs. Claud Harlow of Huntington Beach high is director of the group.

Reservations for the dinner to precede the program are to be made in the county superintendent's office not later than tomorrow.

WHY THE WAR TALK?

Italy Aims To Get Jump On Foe; Il Duce Eyes Two War Centers

This is the second in a series of five daily articles.

By ANDRE BERDING
ROME, Friday, May 17. (AP)—Mussolini is looking anxiously out of both corners of his eyes to north and south as he places 600,000 men under arms to "face any eventuality."

Two war centers he has in mind—to the north, Germany; to the south, Abyssinia.

Il Duce has said repeatedly that he wants peace—but he means to have it through being too strong for the "other fellow" to want to attack him.

"We're Ready," Says Duce
He said it only recently—sixteenth anniversary of the foundation of the fascist party, March 23—when he declared:

"The millions of bayonets carried by the blackshirts accompany our sincere desire for European collaboration."

At the same time he said:

"No event will find us unprepared to face it. We are ready for any task that destiny may place before us. If necessary we will overturn with unstoppable impetus all the obstacles in our way."

So Italy rapidly pushes ahead her armaments. The class of 1911 has been recalled, the class of 1913 kept under arms although the class of 1914 has begun its training; the air force building program quickened 100 per cent; new artillery, tanks, machine guns; obligatory gas masks for civil employees in strategic industries and communications; two of the most powerful battleships in the world under construction.

Sudden Wars Feared
What Mussolini fears is a sudden outbreak of war. It might come from a grave incident on the Abyssinian border. The majority of Italians, in any event, are certain that war will come there with the autumn.

It might come from Germany's annexing Austria. Mussolini has said that the independence of Austria is the "cornerstone" of Italian foreign policy.

The suddenness of the eventual

The incongruity of Germany rearming while her leaders talk of peace is the thought back of this Italian cartoon. Drawn by Onorato, it appeared in the magazine "Travaso delle Idee." Germany, as a most becoming mask for you, miss."

war obsesses Italy's leaders. Mussolini said last August, at the conclusion of the army maneuvers:

"War is a possibility and could break out without warning. It is necessary to be prepared, not for the war of tomorrow, but for that of today."

Official Warning in Senate
The undersecretary of war, General Federico Balistocchi, said in the senate:

"When war might break out is not given to anyone to foresee. But it is evident that it will come almost without warning, that is, after a few days of political tension."

"Therefore it is necessary that we do not let ourselves be anticipated and permit the enemy to take the initiative of the offense. Therefore the 'war of movement' (as compared with the static fighting of the trenches) is imperative for us." And therefore it is that Italy may well be said to be now on a semi-war basis.

OUTLAW TROUP HUNTED AS 20 KILLED

MANILA, P. I., Friday, May 17. (AP)—Awaiting confirmation of a report soldiers had killed 20 outlaws in the mountains of Laguna Province, Philippine constabulary headquarters today disclosed four detachments were trying to round up the band which murdered four men Thursday.

The outlaws, most of whom were described as members of the asserdly communist organization "Anak Pawa," fled into the hills which are inhabited only by aboriginal negritos. The negritos were reportedly forced to guide the outlaws, said to number between 100 and 300.

Pitched Battle

The report of the killing of 20 outlaws was published by La Vanguardia, Manila Spanish language newspaper. It quoted a soldier as saying 25 constabularymen killed a score in a pitched battle with 300 men "dressed in red uniforms."

The outlaws, many of them carrying home-made or stolen guns, killed four municipal officials of San Antonio, a village in Laguna province, Thursday.

Young Ladies Institute Now Planning Two Important Functions

First Annual Party To Be Tomorrow

Grand President to Make Official Visit Soon

Members of the Young Ladies Institute, under leadership of Miss Nellie Colombini, are making elaborate preparations for two special activities, their first annual semi-formal dinner dance to be given tomorrow evening in the Veterans hall, and the official visit of Miss Loretta B. Kelley of Antioch, Calif., grand president, to Santa Ana next Thursday evening.

Takes Reservations
Mrs. Walter Markel, tickets chairman, is taking reservations at 0822-M for the dinner dance. Dinner will be served continuously from 7:30 to 10 o'clock in the evening. Dancing will begin at 7:30 p. m. and continue until midnight.

Mrs. A. L. Stewart is general chairman for the party, which is open to all Y. L. I. members and friends. Mrs. William H. Maag is planning pretty decorations for the hall. Some 15 workers are assisting Mrs. Stewart. Miss Mary Louise Dierker has made a number of posters to advertise the affair, and Miss Colombini is lending her aid wherever needed in the planning.

Dinner Planned
At 6:30 p. m. dinner for Y. L. I. members is planned for Thursday at the James cafe to precede the meeting when Miss Kelley will make her official visit. Mrs. Clyde Ashen, general chairman for the evening, is being assisted by Mrs. R. H. Sandon, Mrs. George Young, Misses Gretchen and Agnes Lieberman and Misses Genevieve and Helen Klatt. Mrs. Young, at 206 is taking reservations for the dinner.

Honored Guests
In addition to Miss Kelley, other honored guests for the evening will be Miss Anne Gray of Crown City institute in Pasadena, grand director; Miss Esther Schnieders of Los Angeles, district deputy grand president; Miss Isabella Schnieders of Los Angeles, grand second vice president; and Miss Eleanor Manly of Los Angeles, institute deputy, and Father Timothy Glavin, Y. L. I. chaplain.

At 8 p. m. the institute will convene in the Knights of Columbus hall. Eight or ten candidates will be initiated. About 100 women are expected to be present. The various honored guests will speak along inspirational lines. Miss Colombini will preside.

Economics Meeting Slated

Members of Santa Ana Junior Ebell home economics section will be entertained Monday afternoon for a 2 o'clock meeting in the home of Mrs. Ralph Liverspire, 1319 North Bristol. Mrs. George Bradley will succeed Miss Loretta Spangler in the leader's duties.

Mrs. Edith Hynes of Los Angeles, formerly a worker in adult education in Santa Ana, will discuss interior decorations in the program hour.

Mrs. Raymond Smith will assist with the hostess duties.

McKinley Teachers Honored by P. T. A. Board Members

In compliment to teachers of McKinley grammar school, the executive board of the Parent Teacher association served a prettily appointed luncheon Wednesday noon in the teachers' room of the school.

The table was set in a color-scheme of orchid and yellow. A corsage presented by Miss Lois Martin, was given by the board to Mrs. Ralph Gordon, the former Wilma Plavan, who was an Easter bride. Place cards had been made by Mrs. Stewart Gibbs.

Seated at the table were Miss Mary Andrews, principal; Miss Emma Hasty, Miss Clarice Marx, Mrs. Gordon, Miss Lana Brokaw, Miss Gertrude Potts, Mrs. Ruby Drake, Mrs. Donna Ward, Miss Berly Hatch, Miss Mary Safely, and Mrs. Evangeline Stark.

Installation of officers will be held at the meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the kindergarten room. A program, social hour and refreshments will follow.

Ladies Aid Group in Plans for Picnic

Plans for a picnic at Jack Fisher's park, June 17, were made by the northeast section of the Ladies Aid society of the First Presbyterian church when they met at the home of Mrs. J. L. Marshall, Santa Clara avenue, Wednesday.

Devotional were led by Mrs. J. H. Nicholson. Miss Helen Marshall sang "Thou Art So Like the Flowers" and "The Sweet of the Year." Mrs. Henry Filer accompanied.

Mrs. W. F. Mars, who presided in the absence of Mrs. Guy Christian, section leader, read "Buying a Hat."

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Frank Lenard, chairman, Mrs. W. M. Belding, Mrs. Lee Ward, Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. E. M. Fuller.

To discover the climatic cause of the Tohoku famine in Japan last year, Minzo Negishi, an aviation pilot, and four men attached to the Central Weather Observatory, are to conduct from the air an investigation of the floating ice in the Okhotsk Sea.

Election Is Held By U. D. C.

Election of officers featured the meeting of Emma Sansom chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Victor Montgomery on North Main street. Mrs. Montgomery, Misses Gertrude and Louise Montgomery, and Mrs. B. E. Tarver shared the hostess honors.

To Serve Again
Mrs. C. E. Price was reelected to the presidency. Other officers elected were Mrs. Jessie Luchinger, first vice president; Miss Percie Head, second vice president; Mrs. Ray B. Steadman, secretary; Mrs. M. C. Maloney, parliamentarian; Mrs. T. J. Haughton, recorder of crosses; Mrs. J. W. Taylor, treasurer; Mrs. L. A. Mayfield; custodian of property; Mrs. Lillian S. Pritchett, historian, and Miss Gertrude Montgomery, reporter.

Convention reports from last week's state convocation of the U. D. C. in Berkeley were given by Mrs. J. K. Norton and Mrs. Pritchett, who has been second vice president of the state.

Plan Observation
The chapter decided to observe Memorial day May 30 instead of June 3 as has been its custom. Members are to meet at 10 o'clock Memorial day in the old cemetery and take flowers with them.

In the program hour, Miss Ruth Switzer, voice student of Florine Pollock, Miss Mercedes Kellough, violin pupil of Elwood Bear, and Miss Helen Holmes, pianist, presented solo and ensemble numbers.

Mrs. Tarver presided at the tea table which was centered with a bowl of forget-me-nots, pink rosebuds and bouvardia on a reflector mirror. Miss Louise Montgomery served sandwich loaf, angel food and spice cakes and tea and coffee to the 25 persons present.

New Officers for Garden Section Elected

New officers were chosen for the coming year at the luncheon meeting of Santa Ana Ebell garden section yesterday in the Peacock room of the Ebell clubhouse. Mrs. Mark B. Lacy will succeed Mrs. J. E. Paul as section leader.

Other new officers are Mrs. J. T. Wilson, vice-leader; Mrs. Fred P. Jayne, secretary, and Mrs. Clyde Backs, treasurer. The section's next meeting will be a garden visitation June 20.

Luncheon tables, gay with flowers, were arranged in a circle around a central floor basket of assorted flowers. In the afternoon, Miss Vanche Plumb presented an unusually complete discussion of the birds found in this territory, together with their habits and characteristics. She passed colored pictures among the clubwomen.

Mrs. Frank Patterson, Ebell curator, was a special guest at the luncheon. Other guests were present. Forty-eight women attended the luncheon, and others came for the program.

CHOCOLATE DROP COOKIES

By Mrs. John J. Mills
Ingredients: 1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 3 squares chocolate, 1/2 cup sweet milk, 1 teaspoonful vanilla, 1 1/2 cups of nuts and raisins, 2 teaspoonfuls of baking powder and 1 1/2 cups of flour.

Directions: Cream shortening and sugar, add eggs, well beaten, and melted chocolate. Then add milk and vanilla, nuts, and raisins, baking powder and flour. Drop by teaspoonful on hot greased pan and bake in hot oven for about 8 to 10 minutes. Watch carefully that they do not burn. Time of baking varies and should be determined by heat of oven.

FRENCH DRESSING

By Mrs. Evelyn M. Munger
Ingredients: 1 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 cup chili sauce, 1/4 cup vinegar, 1/2 cup olive oil, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. sugar, 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce, 1/4 tsp. dry mustard, and 1/2 tsp. paprika.

Place all ingredients in bowl and beat well with a rotary egg beater. Place in jar and add one whole clove of garlic. Keep in refrigerator.

Students To Assemble Here

Students representing the various junior colleges, colleges and universities which have contributed to the 1935 verse anthology, "First the Blade," will meet at the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock for a luncheon which will feature presentation of the book, printed this year on the Santa Ana junior college fine arts press.

President D. K. Hammond of Santa Ana junior college will welcome the visiting students. Mrs. Eleanor Northcross, college dean of women, will award prizes for the book. Eleanor Walter, magazine editor, will present the book, copies of which will then be distributed.

The luncheon is part of the program of the eighth annual California Intercollegiate Fellowship of Creative Art convention to be held on the Santa Ana campus tomorrow.

man Catt, appear on two values of the group of 15 semi-postal stamps being issued by Turkey in connection with the twelfth international suffragist conference at Istanbul.

In addition to the Americans, several women of other countries are included in the illustrations used. Miss Adams is on the 12 1/2 kuruks blue, while Mrs. Catt is on the 10 orange. On the highest value is a late photograph of President Kamal Ataturk (formerly Mustafa Kemal), who is described as "liberator of Turkish women."

In keeping with the plan of semi-postal stamps, each value, running from 20 piastres to 100 kuruks, bears a surcharge double the amount for postage. Besides the portraits of feminine leaders, other values illustrate various activities of women, with a stenographer pictured at her typewriter on the 2 1/2 kuruks green. A teacher and part of her class are shown on the 1 kuruks carmine. A view of the palace, assembly place of the congress, has been placed on the 7 1/2 kuruks.

Rebekahs To Entertain Deputy

Honoring Mrs. Blanche Chandler, recently endorsed deputy district president of Rebekahs, a reception will be held in the L. O. O. F. hall Wednesday evening, June 12, according to plans made yesterday at the meeting of past noble grand of Torosa Rebekahs, held at the home of Mrs. Ethel Brown, 609 Sycamore.

Official appointment of Mrs. Chandler, who is a past noble grand of Torosa, is expected this week from the assembly in convention in San Francisco.

Torosa representatives who are attending the convocation include Mrs. Chandler and Mrs. Esther Brown. Mrs. Maude Swarthout was elected secretary of the group to succeed Mrs. Ada Spencer. Present, beside the hostesses, were Mrs. Allie Cam, Mrs. Mary Cooper, Miss Margaret Kuhl, Mrs. Mary Kuhl, Mrs. Fannie Lacy, Mrs. Maude Lentz, Miss Lillian Lyman, Mrs. Martha McKee, Mrs. Lucille Rathbone, Mrs. Maude Swarthout, Mrs. Laura Tramel, Mrs. Jean Tremble, Mrs. Mary Watkins, Mrs. Edith Wilson, Mrs. Martha Van de Walker, and Mrs. Ada Spencer.

"Chummy Inn," beach home of Mrs. Mary Watkins at Coast Royal, will be the scene of the June meeting.

Smart Party Given In Home

A smart luncheon party, latest in a series which she has planned, was given yesterday by Mrs. Thomas Hall Glenn in her home at 2331 Bonnie Brae.

Sprays of deep blue lilacs were combined with fragrant syringa in floral appointments for the luncheon table and the living room.

Three tables of contract bridge were played after luncheon. Mrs. Loyal K. King, Mrs. William Wright and Mrs. Edmund C. West won prizes.

Other guests were Mrs. Rowland P. Yeagle, Mrs. Harold Nelson, Mrs. D. E. Liggett, Mrs. W. B. Hellis, Mrs. Wilbur Brown, Mrs. Kenneth Conner, Mrs. E. T. McFadden and Mrs. K. H. Sutherland.

Five New Members Accepted by Auxiliary

Initiation services were held for five members at the meeting of the woman's auxiliary to Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans, held Wednesday evening in the K. of C. hall.

Admitted were Mrs. Lena Gunkel of Fullerton, Mrs. Lena Marx and Miss Nell Laub of Santa Ana, Mrs. Juliana Carner of Brea, and Mrs. Mary Elaine of Costa Mesa.

Mrs. Minnie L. Ragon of Long Beach, senior vice commander and membership chairman of the state department, officiated.

The auxiliary will attend memorial church services at the Christian Missionary Alliance church, May 26, with the Jack Fisher chapter. Announcement of the schedule for the state convention to be held May 30, 31 and June 1 in Santa Monica, was made for the group.

June 5 has been set for installation of officers at the K. of C. hall. State officers are expected to attend.

Refreshments were served to the chapter and auxiliary at the close of the business sessions.

Last Pledge Service Held by Sorority At Beach House

The last pre-initiation pledge service was held by Sigma Tau Psi sorority at the chapter meeting last evening in the sorority beach house on Balboa island. Miss Jean Rowland presided.

The pledges, Misses Lucille Howell, Marjorie Berkner, Harriet Chapin and Elizabeth Meyer, will be informally initiated next Thursday evening at the beach.

A dinner dance next Friday evening at the Hollywood Roosevelt hotel will mark the inception of the girls into membership.

HELPS FOR HOUSEWIVES

There is a way of using those sketchy little capes and jackets which have accompanied so many evening gowns the last few seasons. After the frocks are discarded, they may be used as bed jackets.

There is just enough warmth in them to keep one from feeling "coolish" when the sympathetic friend calls. It will be surprising how charming the "invalid" will appear in one of them. They also make an ideal wrap if, on ugly mornings, you feel the need of breakfast in bed.

Cleaning Window Shades

Window shades can be cleaned by taking them down, stretching them out on a flat surface, dusting them thoroughly and then wiping them with a damp soaped cloth. After this clean with damp cloth and then dry very carefully.

To Prevent Cracked Glasses

Tips On Contract

By TOM O'NEIL

Either End Play or Squeeze
We present a bridge lesson from a young lady who, although an excellent player, prefers to knit and kibitz. A declarer was set when two finesses were futile. The knitter pointed out that the contract could have been made by either end play or a squeeze.

The hand, following, was in a rubber game at Brookline, Mass.:

NORTH		WEST		EAST
AKJ43	9762	AKQ84	KJ76	AJ10	9432
53	AKQJ	KJ92	AKQJ	853	AKQJ
AKQJ	AKQJ	AKQJ	AKQJ	AKQJ	AKQJ

The dealer bid a spade, was lifted to two spades by North and then bid four spades, the contract, West and East passing.

West opened the king of hearts and continued with low one after East played the ten-spot. East won the second trick with the jack and then played the ace. South trumped. Two rounds of spades exhausted defenders' trumps.

South then thought that to make the hand he had to finesse a club and a diamond. He led a low club from the South hand and West hopped up with the jack. North's king took the trick. From the North hand a diamond was led, South finessing the queen, which lost to West's king. Later the declarer had to lose a club.

"There was no way to make the contract," moaned the declarer.

Up spoke the knitting kibitzer, Mrs. Irving Turman of New York: "On the contrary, there were two certain ways of success. The first was an elimination end play. After trumping the third heart take two rounds of spades in the North hand, trump North's last heart and lead the ace, king and ten of clubs. West will have to take the ten-spot."

"At that time the North and South hands will contain only spades and diamonds. If West leads a diamond the ace and queen in the South hand will both take tricks. If he leads a club or a heart the trick can be won in the North hand with a trump and the queen of diamonds can be discarded from the South hand."

"The second way to make the hand was by a squeeze on West. After trumping the third heart exhaust trumps by playing the king and jack of spades. Return to the South hand with the ace of clubs. Play the ace of diamonds, then run out all the trumps."

"West must hold the queen of hearts to prevent North's nine from taking a trick. He must also hold the king of diamonds lest South's queen make. If he unguards clubs, North's ten-spot will be made a winner."

Here is the end situation:

NORTH		WEST		EAST
H-9	D-9	H-Q	D-9	H-9	D-9
C-8	C-8	C-K	C-K	C-K	C-K

South's lead of the last spade forces West to throw a club and two of the last three tricks will be taken with North's clubs.

Thieves who cut out part of a store window in Wick, Scotland, took the glass with them.

Gowns Add Color To Party

A wide variety of smart semi-formal and semi-sports frocks in summer flower hues added color to the May informal dance of Comus club last evening in the Orange American Legion clubhouse. Louise Shirley's orchestra provided dance music.

Share Honors
Messrs. and Mesdames John Cannon, L. A. Dickey, William Penn and W. J. Stauffer shared the hosts honors for the party. "Ladies' choice" programs added zest to the occasion.

Among the gowns glimpsed were a flowered gardenia crepe worn by Mrs. John Cannon, Mrs. L. A. Dickey in printed chiffon with puff sleeves, Mrs. William Penn in green and white plaid silk crepe, Mrs. W. J. Stauffer in pink and jade flowered chiffon.

Has Poppy Print

Mrs. Hubert Nall in scarlet and white poppy print, Mrs. E. B. Trago in brown and yellow plaid tissue gingham, Mrs. Frank Miller in tailored plaid pique touched with red and blue.

Mrs. E. T. McFadden in navy blue dotted swiss with abbreviated sleeves, Mrs. J. H. Daniger in pink and turquoise blue cotton, Mrs. Bruce Munro in pink and white checked organdy.

Mrs. Frank Andrews in red dotted swiss with ruffled lei neckline, Mrs. Paul Wallace in blue and white plaid gingham, Mrs. L. N. Sherrard in heavy green silk trimmed in narrow brown military pleating.

In White Organdy

Mrs. J. Riley Huber in white organdy dotted with navy blue and trimmed in narrow red rickrack braid, Mrs. LeRoy Burns in pink organdy trimmed in blue.

Mrs. Paul Ragan in red crepe with a small flower pattern. Fifty-four couples were present. The club's next activity will be the annual June picnic and supper dance, place to be announced later.

As is customary with the Comus dances, various homes were opened for pre-dance parties last evening. Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Burns entertained at their home, 1420 South Parton, and their guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Henry Walker, Wayne Harrison, Bob Fernandez and Don Jerome, and Miss Mary Frances Miller and Al Fernandez. The Bruce Munros gave a party at their home.

COOKING AIDS

Cheese added to white sauce increases nutritive value.

Alternate slices of lemon and orange on small glass plate and serve with hot or ice tea. Cloves can be inserted in each slice. Candied ginger is frequently served with tea.

Sprinkle lemon juice over fish salad just before served. This greatly improves the flavor. Use 2 tablespoons lemon juice for each quart salad.

Leftover egg yolks can be used for cakes or cookies, salad dressing, baked or steamed puddings, or mixed with milk and scramble.

The choral group includes singers from Whittier, La Habra, Pico, El Monte, Fullerton, Montebello, Los Angeles and Alhambra. Marian Lindsay Bach is its conductor, and the "Elijah" is the most pretentious piece of work the singers have yet attempted.

Much interest is being evinced throughout Orange county in the production of Mendelssohn's "Elijah" by the Bach Choral assembly of Whittier, to be given Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in the Whittier Friends church. All churches of Whittier will close Sunday evening in honor of the oratorio.

PHILCO, DELCO DEALERS IN PARLEY

Dealers from all parts of Orange county met last night at the United Automotive Service company plant to outline the summer sales and advertising campaign. Following the business meeting lunch was served.

Introduced by George Springer, sales and advertising manager, A. J. Tobey, general manager, gave a semi-technical description of Philco and Delco automobile radios before telling the dealers of the growth of the automobile radio business. "In 1933," he said, "other radio dealers said that the Philco and Delco lines had spoiled the automobile radio business when they became specified equipment. On the contrary the automobile radio business has shown a steady increase since that time."

Growth of Radio
During his talk he displayed a chart demonstrating the growth of the automobile radio business from 1930, when 34,000 automobile radios were manufactured returning $300,000 to the industry, up to 1934 when 900,000 radios were manufactured and the cash return to the industry was $38,000,000. In 1932 there were 143,000 automobile radios manufactured, and the cash return to the industry was $7,150,000. The following year, when the industry, supposedly, was ruined through manufacturers making Philco and Delco optional equipment, there were 724,000 radios manufactured and the cash return was $25,000,000.

That not all of the automobile radio business is obtained through installation on new cars by the dealer was illustrated by Tobey who said since 1933 the manufacturer has set the quota for dealers at one radio equipped car out of every five sold and has never made 20 per cent of that quota.

Tobey also outlined the Orange county service policy and told of new features that soon will be available in automobile radios. Included in the new features will be controls that may be mounted on the instrument board of any automobile.

MODERNS LIKE TASTE OF VEGETABLES, CLAIM

By JUDITH WILSON
"You need vegetables" and "they are good for you" are no longer sufficient reasons for filling our market baskets with the colorful offerings of the vegetable markets. True, the health-giving properties of vegetables have been much publicized the past few years, but "we like them" is the real reason we are going in for them so wholeheartedly.

We have learned how to cook vegetables to retain all of their color and shape. We no longer mask them with doughy sauces and cook them to a flavorless pulp.

And we are less likely to go in for such methods of cookery as steaming, which is undoubtedly healthful, but which destroys the color and appearance of any but the sturdy root vegetables. We know that appearance and fine natural flavor more than compensate for the loss of a few minerals when the food is boiled quickly in salted water.

Doing things with vegetables right now is more fun than ever since the sunny sun on remote little farms has brought more plentiful supplies and lower prices to our markets than for some time past. You can even afford to make interesting main dishes from mushrooms, and green, fat and succulent shoots of asparagus.

Globe artichokes, tender new peas, limas and string beans, French endive, escarole, chicory and colorful bunches of radishes all beg for a place in your shopping basket. In addition there are new potatoes, the huge mild Bermuda onions, tomatoes and watercress that will give zest to your menus. Here are a few simple yet delicious vegetable recipes:

Mushroom Casserole
Into an earthenware casserole put three tablespoons melted butter and into this stir three cups of peeled and sliced mushrooms. Season them well with salt and pepper. Over the mushrooms spread a cup of cooked rice that has been well seasoned with salt, curry and a dash of cayenne pepper. Sprinkle liberally with melted butter. Over the rice spread a cup of fresh tomatoes cut into small cubes and season again with salt, pepper and a sprinkle of sugar. Put a thin covering of chopped mushrooms on top and cover with thin slices of buttered bread. Bake for half an hour in a moderate oven.

Salad Vinaigrette

This salad requires asparagus, sliced tomatoes, sliced cucumbers, sliced cold boiled potatoes, boiled peas or new lima beans, fine strips of boiled ham and crisp inner leaves of lettuce. Arrange lettuce on individual plates. On this arrange the asparagus, radiating from the center with the tips out. Mix the other vegetables and toss together with French dressing. Pile in the center of the plate over the asparagus butts. Pour over all a vinaigrette dressing made by adding to one cup of dressing a small sour pickle chopped fine, a teaspoon each of minced parsley, chives, sweet green pepper and one-half teaspoon of hot green or red pepper.

FAMED OCEAN LINERS DOOMED AS NEW SHIPS MAKE READY

By RONALD DIXON

NEW YORK, Friday, May 17. (AP)—It's a mournful note the ship's bells are tolling on liners which once ruled the North Atlantic.

Their blue ribbons torn from them, they are being sent to the scrap pile, utilized for holiday cruises, or left like living dead beside an unused pier.

The liner Paris is enroute to France on her last trip. She is only 14 years old. But the French line, her owners, now have the Normandie. More than twice the size of the 34,000-ton vessel she succeeds—and the new queen of the seas will take over the Atlantic run May 29. The Paris will be used for pleasure and replacement trips.

The Olympic, largest British-built ship afloat and once the largest in the world, left New York April 12 and never returned.

She is tied up at Southampton, and although Cunard White Star, Ltd., has made no announcement, shipbreakers are reported to be preparing bids for her destruction. Unquestionably old for an ocean greyhound, the Mauretania will be sold for scrap at Southampton on May 13.

The Italian line's 30,000-ton Augustus, world's largest motorship, is sidetracked to the South American trade; the 34,000-ton British steamship Homeric is doing cruise duty. So is the 32,000-ton Columbus, with which Germany proudly reentered the transatlantic traffic in 1922.

Most famous of all wartime trans ports, the Leviathan, is peeling its paint at a Hoboken, N. J., pier. Some day the 49,000-ton hulk—queen of the seas when christened the Vaterland by Germany in 1914—probably will be towed south. It will cost less to keep her from falling apart down there.

POLISH UNEMPLOYED STRIKE

GRUDZIANSZ, Poland (AP)—Looking a "gift horse" in the mouth caused 1,800 unemployed men to go on strike here. The town council decided doles should be given only to men who worked on a public improvement program. A 24-hour strike followed.

Finds Records of Quintuplets and Even Sextuplets, Report

LOS ANGELES, Friday, May 17. (AP)—He had to go back into ancient history to find them, but Dr. Arthur Patch McKinlay, University professor here, claims to have found instances of the birth of quintuplets—and even sextuplets—long before the Dionne family came into fame.

The first case, said Dr. McKinlay, was during the time of Sophocles. Sextuplets were born to a Grecian mother.

Some centuries later quintuplets were born into an Egyptian family, the doctor said. He is professor of classics at University of California, at Los Angeles, and his sources of information were

Here's One Law That Can Be 'Ducked'

PHILADELPHIA, Friday, May 17. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. William Miller escaped a ducking at the hands of a law because they were born a hundred years too late.

Arrested under a 150-year-old statute on complaint of 40 neighbors that they were "profound nuisances and common scolds," the couple faced immersion from a "ducking stool."

But Judge Howard A. Davis ruled the law no longer in effect, held Mrs. Miller under $500 bail to keep the peace and ordered the couple to move five miles from their present address.

Little Girl Prefers Snakes to Dolls

SAN PEDRO, Friday, May 17. Four-year-old Verlie Ann Kearns would rather play with snakes than dolls.

That's why she tenderly removed a big doll from her tiny doll carriage and placed her pet snake—a garden variety—in the buggy. The snake, she explained, likes to curl around the soft lining.

Verlie Ann has several reptile playmates and has been caring for them since she was a year old.

She and her brother, Jacques, 13, have a collection of 200 lizards, but Verlie Ann doesn't care much for them.

"Because they bite," she explained. "But I get even with them."

DIME LETTER CRAZE REPORTED ON WANE

WASHINGTON, Friday, May 17. (AP)—The send-a-dime letter fad is on the wane.

That is the opinion, at least, of postoffice department officials in charge of investigating the latest get-rich-quick scheme. In absence of formal reports from sections of the west and middle west, predicted the number of letters forwarded here for investigation have fallen from 200 to less than 100 a day.

Clubs for railroad workers are being organized in Russia.

Verlie Ann added thoughtfully, "I feed them to the snakes."

FARM BUREAU GROUP PICNIC TOMORROW

Orange County Farm bureau members will gather at Irvine park tomorrow noon for their annual picnic. Each of the nine farm centers in the county will compete to display the best decorated picnic table and the best attendance percentage.

Sports, singing and a wife calling contest will give variety to the event. The feature of the day will be an address by Dr. H. R. Wellman, chief of the specialty crop section of the U. S. A., on "The Economics of Surplus Control of Agricultural Products."

At 3 p. m. northern and southern farm center teams will stage a baseball game.

WANT AD HEIRESS

By ROB EDEN

—“An accident,” Ward explained, “one that might happen to anybody.”
“Ward!” Lael sprang away from him. “It won’t be murder!”

BEGIN HERE TODAY:

FRAN CAREY, obscure stenographer, found an old-fashioned locket. She advertised, but no one claims it for three months, and then only after a series of puzzling incidents. First Fran learns she is being followed by a tall, blond young man. Then she receives a note from him warning her to guard the locket. Her room is ransacked, apparently for the locket. Finally she receives an obviously false claim to the locket by telephone.

Fran meets, and more than likes, WARD QUENTIN, a tall, dark young man, who has opened an office on the floor where she works. He gives her a restrained but unmistakable rush.

Fran discovers that the man who had followed her is CHRISTOPHER ABBOTT, prominent lawyer. She goes to him, asks him why he followed her, what value the locket has. He refuses any information, but warns her against any new acquaintances. Fran wonders if he means Ward, but is reassured when Ward shows no interest in the locket when she tells of finding it.

But Ward is interested. He is the tool of ELLEN SPENCER, and her brother, JAY, who want the locket. Ward is set on making Fran fall in love with him, though he is in love with LAEL HUBBEL, his “secretary” in the “office” he has opened.

After the preliminary “rush” of Fran he is deliberately avoiding her, giving her “the absent treatment.”

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:

CHAPTER FIFTEEN

Ward was playing solitaire frowning over his cards which lay before him on his desk. Lael was sitting on the couch, on her lap, a book, which, although open, she wasn't reading. It was warm in the office, and the soft breeze through the open window moved the drapes gently.

The Phone Rings

The phone rang—it rang in both offices—and Lael got up lazily to answer it. No, Mr. Quentin was out. He would probably be in at three. Could she take a message? She couldn't, so after she had hung up, she walked to the window and looked down on the street.

Quentin hadn't even looked up when the phone rang—he might have been alone playing his solitaire so indifferent was he to Lael and the telephone, which was only a foot from his right elbow. He lost his game, and promptly started to deal out another.

“That's the tenth in a row, Ward,” Lael complained. “How many more are you going to play?”

“Have to do something. Can't sit here biting my nails. Why don't you read, or something?”

“I'm sick of reading—and I'm sick of this office and I don't see why when you're not seeing Fran Carey, we can't go out of town or something—”

“Too dangerous my dear, much too dangerous. Can't leave the field of operations,” Ward started humming as he studied his cards. They looked better than his previous deals. There was a chance of his winning this one. “See her this noon?”

“Yes—in the elevator.”

“She says anything?”

“No, she nodded and spoke—that was all.”

“Did she look worried?”

“I—well, she seemed to look all right as far as I could see. She was with Martha Pierce.”

Absent Treatment

“My absent treatment is working, I think,” Ward put a red six on a black five, and then turned up a red four.

Lael came back to the couch and sat down sighing. “I can't understand why you have to go and get her to fall madly in love with you—just to get a locket away from her. She'd probably show you the locket now, if you asked her. Let you have it all night, and then you could have it duplicated easily—in one night. All this—seems such a waste of time—”

Ward started whistling softly. He was playing his cards quickly—almost through. He had won! Eleven games and he had won on the last. Not so bad. Last night it had taken 40 games to win. Quentin never stopped until he had won, no matter what was happening.

“No waste of time at all, Lael,” he said putting the cards in their pack. When they were in the top drawer he leaned back, his fingers thrust into his vest. “You just don't understand what I'm trying to do—”

“I know what you're trying to do. Get the locket away from Fran Carey—”

“My dear, you're quite wrong. I have no intention of getting the locket away from Fran!”

“But you said when we—”

“I know. That was what we planned to do at first when I talked to you about it, but since then our plans have changed.

Now, I'm going to marry her—

“You're going to marry her?”

“Yes,” Ward nodded solemnly.

Lael's hand went to her throat and her lips moved convulsively, but she wasn't able to speak.

But Don't Worry

“But that's nothing for you to worry about. Everything will be the same between you and me as it has always been. There won't be any change. I didn't tell you before because I thought you might make a fuss about it—but it's time you knew now.”

“It's the only way we can do it—and be sure. I had to tell the Spencers on the idea—they were a bit difficult at first—but they understand now, and they're behind me, both of them. The marriage clinches everything—don't you see?”

Lael's blue eyes were glassy, staring, her face under its light coating of makeup was chalky. Her lips were cold, but she managed to speak. “You should have told me long ago—”

“I was afraid, dear, but I should have known you'd take it like a trouper,” Ward wasn't worried about Lael. He knew he could manage her, but he did wish he had told her before.

“Do you—do you think she'll marry you?” Once Lael had thought Ward was going to marry her—he hadn't asked her, but she had thought he was going to ask her. She knew now that he never intended to, but even that didn't make any difference in her love for him—as long as she didn't have to share him with anyone else. As long as she had him alone.

“Well, I'm sure she likes me—more than likes me. And if she doesn't love me by now—then I'm no good—see? I've done everything I can to make her love me.”

“Then there's this absent treatment I've been giving her since Tuesday night. Absolutely ignoring her—that's always good. Didn't she ask you the other day if I were out of town? Well, that's something, that's a lot—what I hoped for. She isn't the kind of a girl who runs after men, so I don't expect her to phone me, but I'll bet you any amount of money she wants to.”

Ward was satisfied with his campaign. He was grinning as he pulled the desk calendar over to him. This was Monday. He hadn't seen Fran or let her see him since last Tuesday evening.

Plans Proposal

“I think I'll be proposing to her about Wednesday—” he mused aloud, but Lael heard him and shivered. “Or maybe Thursday. Give her a few more days. Won't hurt her at all.”

“I'm not made of rock and stone, Ward. I wish you'd have some consideration for my feelings—” the girl felt tears come to her eyes so she turned around and dashed them with her hands. Ward must not see her cry.

“I've told you time and time again, Lael, that you shouldn't be jealous. I'm not in love with Fran Carey, and I never will be.”

“Why don't you go some place tonight? Away—for a long ride—I never see you any more except in this office!” Lael's voice rose a little.

“Too dangerous. We can't be seen together at all, dear. I've told you that time and time again. It's hard on me, too. You don't think I like going home every night and staying by myself? God knows, I'm getting pretty sick of it—but it's the only thing we can do. Got to be careful. Abbott's got detectives after me, I know. That man Peters who has been in here so much about that Fifth st. property doesn't look so genuine to me. Wouldn't wonder at all if he isn't a detective—”

“He seems so nice. Chats with me every time he comes—”

“Yes, but be careful, and don't say anything to him about me, or about you.”

“You know I wouldn't.”

Ward came over and sat down on the couch with her. “I know, dear. I trust you.” He took her in his arms none too gently and kissed first her cheeks, then her lips.

“I do love you so,” she whispered, her head on his shoulders.

“I know, and so do I love you—and this won't be long, this marriage. Only a short while.”

“Are you going to make her give you a divorce, and then sue?” Lael asked.

“No, we're going to do it right. First the marriage, and then a month or so later—maybe two months—an accident. One of those unavoidable things that might happen to anybody—”

“Ward!” Lael sprang away from him. “It won't be—murder!”

“Darling, darling,” he soothed “of course not. Didn't I say it was to be an accident? It's going to be arranged carefully, very carefully. No one will ever know that it was anything but an accident—”

“My God!”

“Lael!” He shook her rudely. “Lael, get yourself together! You don't have to be frightened—”

“I didn't know it was—going to be like this—” she muttered with trembling lips. Murder—murder, that was what it was.

“Well, you know now, you know everything,” he replied brutally as he went back to his desk. “There's the outer door opening. Go out and see who it is!”

“I can't—I can't—”

“Lael, you must go!” He picked up her notebook and pencil and thrust them into her shaking hands. Then he smoothed down her hair, tapped her cheek and gave her a little push to the door.

“Lael, you can't fall down on me. I'm depending on you. I'm doing this for you—so that we can spend the rest of our lives together in leisure, in luxury. You've got to stand by me!”

She stumbled out of the office, and into the reception room. Peters, of the Acme Detective Agency, who was waiting by the door, thought she was ill, and asked her if she didn't feel well.

She said no, she had a headache, but that she thought Mr. Quentin would see Mr. Peters right away.

CREATIVE ARTS TO CONVEY AT SANTA ANA J. C.

With presentation of “First the Blade,” anthology of student verse published each year by California colleges, the eighth annual convention of the California Intercollegiate Fellowship of Creative Art will be held on the Santa Ana Junior college campus Saturday, under the auspices of the Tavern Tattlers, jaycee literary organization.

J. Gregg Layne, author of several books on California history, will give the address of the convention, speaking on “The Art of Collecting Fine Books.”

BEAUCEANT ORDER WILL ENTERTAIN HIGH LEADER

Plans for the annual visit of the supreme president on June 5 were made at the meeting of the Social Order of Beauceant Wednesday night in the Masonic temple.

A 12 o'clock luncheon will be served for the executive and delegates from all parts of the state are expected to attend.

A pot luck dinner with the commandery was scheduled for June 19. The regular card party on May 22 is to be indefinitely postponed.

Bank Letter Will Say Federal Loans in County Decreasing

The Security Title and Guarantee company news letter, which will be issued late this week, will say that applications for loans through federal agencies in Orange county apparently reached their peak in 1934, and that indications point to a decrease in applications during this year.

The letter will publish figures showing total business done by the various agencies since their inception late in 1933, this total being $7,075,092.06. The total for the Home Owners Loan corporation was $2,629,750.58, up to May 1; the total for the Federal Land bank alone was $470,511.48 for the same period; the total for the Land Bank commissioner alone was $657,130, while the combined total of loans on which the Federal Land bank and Land bank commissioner cooperated was $3,177,000.

Radio Roundup

TONIGHT'S PROGRAMS.

By HOMER CANFIELD

You weary listeners—wary from constantly twisting that dial to avoid long and windy commercial announcements, will greet with paternal love CBS' announcement that starting July 30 they will restrict the amount of advertising on all network programs. No longer will you be the forgotten man. The policy of "they can take it and like it" is soon to be a thing of the past—we hope. And this is to be only one of three new policies, in connection with commercials, which the Columbia Broadcasting System is announcing, and which are to be effective as rapidly as permitted by fair consideration to advertisers with contracts now in force:

1—Effective July 30, a maximum of 10 percent of the total broadcasting period may be devoted to the sponsor's commercial announcements, including contests and offers, on programs after 6 p. m. During the day time sponsored programs will be allowed a maximum of 15 percent. A single exception to these ratios will be made on fifteen-minute programs, on which an additional allowance not to exceed 40 seconds will be made.

2—A new standard is to be set in children's programs by prohibiting entirely certain types of treatments.
To this end CBS is engaging the services of a child-psychologist who will have the benefit of an advisory board of qualified members. The programs will be designed to meet the approval of parents, children and educators alike.

3—No broadcasting of any product which describes graphically or repel-lantly any internal bodily functions, symptoms of internal disturbances, or matters which are generally not considered acceptable topics in social groups. This policy will specifically exclude not only all advertising of laxatives as such, but the advertising of any laxative properties in any other product. It will further exclude the discussion of deplorables, deodorants and other advertising which, by its nature presents questions of good taste. As to new business, this policy becomes effective immediately. The last of the present commitments expires
March, 1936.

And to all this we can only say
"Bravo" and more "Bravo." And sit patiently at our desk waiting expectantly to see what NBC and the independent broadcasters are going to do about it.

MUSICAL PLAY IS TONIGHT

A musical spree is in store for those who attend the Episcopal Young People's Fellowship operetta and dance tonight in the Y.
W. C. A. rooms at 8 o'clock.

Directing "The Stationary Express" musical farce, are Miss Grace Corbin, also pianist, and Wallace L. Graf.

Major parts of the cast are taken by Lorraine Farrage, Betty Timmons, Grace Fox, Charles
Dawson, Roy Potter, Charles
Swanner, Jr., Tom Bissett, Gordon
Fey, Eugene Stimpson, Horace
Evans, Betty Goode, Carol Stands,
Marjorie Matthews, Dora Weir,
Frances Hatch, Kathleen Dawson, Ed Wollert, Katherine Fox, and little Mary Elizabeth Yonge.

Following the presentation, dancing will be in order. Refreshments will close the evening. Proceeds of the affair will go toward the organization's missionary fund.
Heading the Fellowship are Charles Dawson, president, and Grace Fox, vice president.

ORDER SOUGHT TO POSTPONE SALE OF PROPERTY

Filed under an act of the California legislature adopted January 31, 1931, entitled "An act relating to the relief of debtors and guarantors," Charles W. Thornthwaite and Blanche Thornthwaite have petitioned superior court for an order postponing sale of their property.

The petition names as defendants, The Southern Counties Bank of Anaheim and William Schumacher and J. W. Phelps as trustees.
According to the petition the property, located in Anaheim is to be sold to cover a default on a prom-issory note protected by a trust deed.

In asking for postponement of the sale Thornthwaite and his wife made declaration that the default was caused by reasons "beyond control" and that plans are being made for refinancing the property.
They are asking for postponement until after August 1.

$100,000 HEART BALM SUIT MIXED

LOS ANGELES, Friday, May 17. (AP)—A $100,000 heart balm suit between Mrs. Nettie Fitzgerald and Mrs. Fonete-Simons-Fitzgerald was in a scrambled condition today. It had also been postponed indefinitely.

For one thing, John Fitzgerald, the central figure in the case, was in jail awaiting trial on bigamy charges. He was charged with marrying Mrs. Fonete-Simons-Fitzgerald, wealthy Beverly Hills matron, 4 Yuma, Ariz., last February without having received a divorce from his first wife of 18 years, Mrs. Nettie Fitzgerald.
Mrs. Nettie Fitzgerald brought the love balm action against the other woman, charging she lured her husband away from her.

During a recent angling contest on River Ticio, at Pavia, Italy, four local Fascist chiefs were drowned.

"THE BOOM BEGINS"

AMERICA has started for boom times and doesn't know it, says Maj. L. L. B. Angas, widely known British financial authority. In his book, "The Boom Begins," soon to be published, Major Angas asserts the boom actually is on but that we are so close to the forest we can't see the trees.

We had hoped this country might get along without another boom. We had one a few years ago and we still are paying for it. We had a boom during the war. Shipyard workers thought themselves unfortunate unless they had a different colored silk shirt for every day in the week. Now they are lucky if they have one hickory shirt.

We had a boom soon after the war. It made sugar daddies and big butter and egg men faster than the government is now thinking of printing greenbacks. A lot of these same fellows are now on the relief rolls.

The so-called "white collar" man who didn't get a chance at the silk shirts or the pent houses, is still plugging away, trying to pay his own bills and the cost of the last boom. His salary reductions came so fast he needed a bookkeeper to keep tab on them and before he could even think of getting squared away on his reduced income, the government began handing him 50-cent dollars.

Prayers have been offered for a return of normal times. More prayers should be said that the congress will stop meddling with other people's affairs when they are conducted on decent principles. If we are to continue our capitalist form of government, give industry a chance to expand and sleep nights. Such a course would not cause what we ordinarily refer to as a boom; it would simply get us back on the road to town.

America has just as many resources as it always had and just as much brain power. If Major Angas' prediction will restore confidence in ourselves; if it is the sunshine we need to clear away the fog, it's all right with us if he wants to call his book "The Boom Begins." We've been flying blind long enough.

WIFE SWAPPERS AND RELIEF

WELL, it seems the boys and girls in the Los Angeles county relief administration office at San Pedro, have been having a pretty good time at the taxpayers' expense. Tales of "wife swapping," drunken parties and other high life are reported in the day's news with the incidental information that there is to be an "investigation."

Police got wind of the carryings on when one husband objected to "swapping" his wife with another LACRA employee. There was a fight. In another case, a husband punched his wife in the nose because she insisted on keeping company with another man member of the happy family of government workers.

We are inclined to blame our field crop workers because they would rather stay on the relief rolls than work for what the farmer has set for the going wage. Is it any wonder the spirit of get-it-while-it-lasts prevails throughout the land when we learn of what is happening in some of the relief offices?

Is it any wonder people revolt at the idea of loading the public payrolls with men and women charged with the responsibility of administering aid to the needy, only to find they are unfit for public trust?

As a nation we have excused much that has been faulty in our relief setup because it is relatively new and exceedingly complex. But the machine has been in operation long enough now to have found the rough spots in the gears. Repair work is imperative lest a breakdown occurs.

RECOVERY IN CALIFORNIA

(From The San Francisco Daily News)

STILL faced with staggering problems of insecurity for hundreds of thousands of our people, California is nevertheless definitely on the upgrade.

Rapid increases from receipts from the state sales tax, even during winter months when sales ordinarily decline, prove that beyond any doubt. And so does the monthly report of retail sales just issued by the Federal Reserve Bank for the San Francisco district.

This region and the Coast territory embraced in the district show a greater rate of increase in sales than any other of the 12 districts into which the Federal Reserve System is divided.

Californians who understand the basis of our economic life will rejoice that Fresno, Stockton, Sacramento and other agricultural and fruit-growing centers show a bigger pickup than do the big Coast cities. It means that our producers are doing better, paying off mortgages, getting their heads above water, in many cases making handsome profits.

Today the local shipping centers reflect this improvement. Tomorrow it will be reflected even more clearly than it is now in the business of the metropolitan centers. For the first time in nearly six years, California's traditional optimism has solid food on which to feed.

BOYS AND OVERALLS

SMALL boys in Santa Ana wear overalls to school. Shocking! say the bluebloods in the big towns. Grand! say we.

A recent arrival in the city didn't know about the overalls idea until his small boy came home from school one day on the verge of tears. His mother, as all mothers do, stooped to kiss him and find out what the trouble was. "They called me a sissy and asked me where I got the bloomers!" he choked as he pointed to the knickers he had worn to school in his former home town.

So mother, of a democratic turn of mind herself, fished out some faded overalls with generous patches on the knees, and the small boy came home whistling the next day.

"They say I'm one of the gang now," he remarked. Being "one of the gang" is an honor not to be sneezed at. If overalls for the boys and uniform dresses for the big girls will do it, why not go a step farther and adopt a uniform for the big boys? A lot of envy and probably a headache now and then might be removed.

Iris Adrian, film actress, is the third bride of Charles Henry Over Jr., Los Angeles broker and heir to a $60,000,000 estate. Miss Adrian appears in a picture announcing the event wearing a gown with spider web design.

Thoughts while strolling: No-body munches an apple along New York streets. Myrna Loy suggests a diet of star dust. Breakfast notion: Dates with cream and a rasher of fried bacon. I never see a fire extinguisher without wanting to try out just one squirt. The Lady in the Iron Mask—Fannie Hurst. Who remembers the first O. O. McIntyre hitching post of cement? You have to blast everything you buy out of cellophane these days. Almost nobody knows how to use the words only and very correctly. The town's snowiest white-head—George W. Tryon.

One word description of Miriam Hopkins—floaty. Ted Sauter, of all people, is becoming a thin man. They come and go. That is all but Al Jolson. Nancy White and her aunt Carmel Snow. Both talented fashion experts. Few artists have been so true to their ideals as Art Young, bless him!

For oblivion: The table ostrich who picks his teeth behind a large napkin and weens nobody seeth. Add exquisite prose: Rachel Field's. F.P.A. hasn't toyed with nitid for a long time. To eat in silence: Ask the man or woman next to you to tell all he or she knows about Martin Van Buren.

Look alike: Warner Oland and the late Reginald Vanderbilt. The way Major Bowes camouflages the pathos in those amateur hours is art. What literature needs is another Ring Lardner. Tap dance schools that fill at midnight. Was anyone ever satisfied with a marked down "bargain?"

In the perfumed purlieus of the Upper Fifties she is known as "Dowager Three Balls." A Dickens female character in her 70's who wears a wig, a long black gabardine dress and carries a cane. Her clientele is composed of the social matron and debutante. She buys old clothes, trousseaus, bric-a-brac, everything. Customers drive up with a suit case. She approaches without a word of greeting, takes the bag and hobbles back to another room. The contents are inspected and she screeches: "Two dollars, yes or no!" One way for the once rich to pick up pin money during a depression.

A high in extemporaneous wit was achieved by Bert Hanlon, a vaudeville actor, at a dinner given for a New Yorker in Hollywood recently. He began by welcoming the visitor "to the land of semitropics and Semmy Goldwyns" and immediately turned hilariously ribald. So much so he not only had them rolling on the floor but before going home received an offer—after a long lay-off—from the highly press agented Lubitsch himself.

They were talking of fancy words in modern literature. The palm, it would seem, goes to Carl Van Vechten in his "Tattooed Countess." Among them were deracinate, dolent, epithumetic, eponymy, monoglot, morigerate, juppancy, passerine, phylactery, pinguic, procacious, samel, sciapodis and sciolist. Indeed some are not to be found in Webster's Unabridged.

Baird Leonard is regarded by many as The Original Sophisticate. Her writings were first to have the Kit Morley edge that cuts floating silk. She blazed the trail for the superior cynical era that launched Dorothy Parker, Lois Long, Peter Arno, Robert Benchley and others. The only difference is that Miss Leonard generalized, while many of those who followed were cruelly specific. In the old Morning Telegraph, her Manhattan Monotypes etched the passing parade in strokes of acid. She pinned butterflies to the wall far more expertly than those who followed. And she did it without singling out personalities.

Those richly upholstered, indirectly lighted and singless drug stores that floriate in only la-dash neighborhoods offer the same elegance in personnel. The managers are pencil-mustached fops out of Vanity Fair with lapel flowers in their morning coats and a switch to tuxedos at night. Many have Piccadilly accents and I understand are engaged on the size and strength of social contacts.

Theodore Dreiser continues the waddling Old Bruin of letters. Too many of his years were embittered for even a little sweetness to show through in casual contacts. Always he is blunt and direct. Not long ago he was invited to dine where a literary upstart was to be guest of honor. "Sorry," he replied, "but I have too few evenings left to squander on bores." Talks to Parents

By Brooke Peters Church

One of the primary grades was having its first geography lesson, or as it was called, social science class of the fall term. They were taking up certain features of the United States and following the lesson on maps.

There was a noticeable difference in the way the children approached the subject. Some were bored, some frankly at sea, others as familiar with the subject as with the local roads. It was the children who had been on automobile trips and had followed the routes on the maps who took an intelligent interest in the subject. The best way for children to learn the practical value of maps is to use them, and there is an excellent opportunity for this practice during long trips in the summer. Let the children take turns holding the maps and guiding the driver over the route previously planned. Even a very little child who is able to read can do this quite well. It is hard for children to understand the use and meaning of a map when they meet it abstractly in geography class. To them it is apt to be a meaningless jumble of lines and names. Even adults are often amazingly inept at plotting routes or following them after they have been plotted. Today when they are essential to travel such ignorance is inexcusable. The child who has followed maps from his earliest years will learn to take a real and not merely an academic interest in them, and when he meets in his travels the names of a place on the map will greet it and make inquiries about it as if it were an old friend.

By this very simple means the classroom and reality can be brought into relationship with one another and with life.

Feeling Well Today?

By Dr. Iago Galdston

PROTECTION AGAINST INFANTILE PARALYSIS: I

The untrained person does not readily distinguish among vaccines, sera, toxins, antitoxins, etc., and of course the average layman can be little blamed for getting the terms mixed up.

Recently, vaccine protection against infantile paralysis has been featured prominently in medical and in lay discussions. In general, the reading public has gathered an impression that we are about ready to offer them specific protection against the disease, but just how clear, perhaps a consideration of the chronology of certain of these ideas may make matters clear.

First it was definitely shown that polio (infantile paralysis) is caused by a virus (i.e., a microscopically invisible disease-causing agent) which invades and in consequence is found in the brain and spinal cord of its victims. Then it was shown that individuals (animals as well as humans) who recover from an attack of polio had in their blood agents capable of neutralizing and rendering innocuous the virus of polio.

On the basis of this observation an attempt was made to treat infantile paralysis and to prevent it by injecting the blood containing immune bodies into victims of polio and into persons exposed to it.

As a method of treatment, the injection of immune serum has not proved effective. Nor is this method of treatment significant in prevention, for even should it confer immunity on the treated individual, the immunity would not last long. The reason for this is that the injected blood which contains the antibodies would, after a while, be destroyed by the tolerate foreign substances.

The problem of protection has therefore reduced to one of active engendering resistance within the individual by subjecting him to a modified, that is, non-virulent dose of polio virus.

rest are having a hard time finding a use for their funds. The government has absorbed part of the field where they used to put their money.

Executives backing the Brookings mortgage survey hope they can reach an understanding with the administration whereby the mortgage field can be divided between them.

SON JIMMY

THE whole story of the reason for Jimmy Roosevelt's hibernation on the family estate at Hyde Park can be summed up in one word—politics.

Attempts to make a mystery of the matter are as laborious as they are inaccurate. So, too, are the conjectures about poor health and that his being in business was embarrassing to the administration. Jimmy is in good health. And his brother Elliott is not only in business, but is engaged in promoting a Pan-American air derby.

What it is all about is this: A big blow-up is brewing in the democratic party in Massachusetts. The political leaders are at one another's throats and all signs point to a fierce free-for-all.

So in the interest of Jimmy—who has been dabbling in the explosive situation—and the administration, it was decided it would be wiser and safer to remove him from the scene for a while.

In doing that there was no thought of making the young man a member of the white house secretariat. The object in evacuating him from Boston was to get him out of hot water and not to put him in it.

And let me alone for a ten-minute session With the next one who mentions Financial Depression!

YE DIARY

Thy evening do discover Little Homer pecking at my writing machine, and he doth announce proudly that he do be fashioning an article for the public prints; and I mightily wroth, and do warn him that if ever he doth show signs of becoming a journalist, I will have him placed in a home for the feeble-minded, for Lord! it do be the greatest toll ever a man suffered in this world; but anon do recollect that I have heard the same complaint from lawyers, accountants, chirographers, tooth churges, traveling salesmen, goldsmiths, realtors, sailormen, and men of every other trade and craft, for, in all truth, every man doth curse the work he doth perform, albeit love it too, and far pastures do ever look the greenest. And so, pondering this ancient philosophic, to bed.

And that goes for the family.

SUNDOWN STORIES

BIG CHIEF CHRISTOPHER By Mary Graham Bonner

Throughout the day the Puddle Muddlers had been busy with the Indians. They had watched them making baskets, moccasins, bows and arrows, their tepees.

They had seen how they danced different dances for different occasions, they had seen how they rode and raced and had matches to show their strength.

Big Chief was calling them all together now.

"It is not yet dusk," he called. "See, Sun still sits up on that patch of western sky where he moves every afternoon. In the morning Great Sun comes up in the East and rests in the sky there, looking over world, seeing what is growing, what is happening on earth. He sees all well. So he stretches himself and moves over toward South, and on to the West before the mighty sleep comes over him."

"Now it is not yet dusk, and soon we must eat around fire. Then we have important ceremony. We must make mighty crow—called Christopher Columbus Crow—big chief. Much, much there is to do while we stay in place called Puddle Muddle."

"Gather all now. Bring great smooth stone for mighty grow to stand on while we make him Big Chief Crow."

The drum was being beaten now. The Indians all hurried to the council fire and, as soon as they had eaten, Christopher Columbus Crow was taken into the Indian tribe with the words:

"Big Chief Crow of Puddle Muddle. Because of your mighty wings, your strong, clear eyes, we do you Indian honor."

SKINNY SKRIBBLES

Around and About Town

Automotive eyesight is becoming bad, if my vision turns in the right testimony. There is an increasing number of one-eyed autos on the highway. To operate a car with only one glim shining is a violation of the headlight act. I'm agin' it no matter what the headlight act says. The practice is dangerous. A driver is entitled to a guess whether the approaching light is on a car or a motorcycle. Sometimes when you find out it's too late.

Business is improving. Barney Koster reports an unmistakable sign. An account which has not been shaved for sixteen years came clean and settled in full. When financial miracles of that type occur there is some hope that the depression is on its way out.

Casting a postmortem interrogation at the straw hat sign hanging onto the electric light standards corner Fourth and Main streets, I asked Sam Hurwitz to let me in on how long is straw hat day. Sam had a snappy comeback. He proposed to lengthen the day by making it plural. Under this arrangement you still have time to buy your straw hat before the season closes. Sam's proposal makes it straw hat days.

One of the magazine writers says that your hands tell things about you. I know it, and among the most embarrassing is what is said from under the finger nails.

Orange growers cast an inquiring eye skyward when desert winds threaten to invade this county. They come down through the Cajon pass, into Riverside, thence through the Santa Ana canyon and exhaust themselves oceanward. Valencia orange growers look upon what is officially designated as a Santana with disfavor. Any other name would be just as objectionable. Winds which carry with them high electric voltage inflict serious damage to fruit and foliage. So far this season the injury has been negligible, but there always remains that apprehensive feeling until the fruit is picked. Favorable weather has its important place in orange growing along with cultivation, irrigation, fumigation and fertilization.

George Smith has one of the best behaved roadsters in town. If it fails to stop at the curb the curb stops it. After the bounce George gets out and then comes back to see if the car is still there. This test is only tried in front of the postoffice. I could have kept this item out of the column but George didn't offer anything.

If the Heavenly Father takes notice of the sparrow's fall his attention must have been directed to a casualty in front of The Journal Wednesday. An injured sparrow fluttered at the curb. An observing autoist narrowly misses the bird, then unintentionally kicks the wound sparrow on alighting from the car. That last kick was the final curtain. Before a rescue could be effected another car crushed the remaining spark, and one more sparrow comes within the notice of the Omnipotent.

The seventeenth of March is St. Patrick's day, but that makes no difference with the Santa Ana Shopper. Wednesday morning the town looked like the patron Saint had made a return visit and left a calling card at every home in the city. The color appropriately harmonized with the lawn. The Shopper will keep up this visit continuously, but does not agree to perpetuate the color scheme. If you want to fit in with the Shopper you keep your own lawn green.

One of the fraternal orders carried an item in their monthly publication about the brothers being indebted to the retiring officers. A member of the aggregation, having his eye centered on that word indebted, remarked: "Oh, yeah? If it only ended there."

Charley Ott answered my phone call, and he said he would know my voice in San Quentin. When I suggested that is where he ought to hear it he replied: "That goes for you, too." Charley and the other part of the dispute are good friends. So no seconds will be required. Yards and yards ago Charley was one of my most faithful, prolific and entertaining correspondents from his den in the Oregon Short Line dispatcher's office at Salt Lake City. And what he told me about the early history of Santa Ana and what he did to it and what it did to him would make a prize volume for the Bowlers museum.
